TO PREVENT A WAR

Fonseca Has Sent a Strong Delegation

To Discuss Matters with the Nationalists.

The Governor of Paraguay's House Sacked.

Uruguay Still Firm in Stand for Neutrality.

The Latest News From the Turbulent Countries in the South Cabled From All Over the World for Readers of the Bee.

London, Nov. 18.—To all intents and purposes every statement made exclusively in these dispatches in regard to the state of affairs in Brazil has been borne out, a day or two later, by advices published by the other agencies or by so-called "official."

As the United Press yesterday announced exclusively, negotiations looking to a peaceful settlement of the revolution, Rio Grande do Sul to be allowed to maintain its independence, are in progress.

Upon the part of the junta of the revolted province, Visconde Pelotas on Monday opened up communication with the dictator saying that unless mutual concessions were promptly made a long and bloody civil war could not be averted.

The visconde did this in spite of the fact that he only represented one out of three parties concerned in the local government of Rio Grande do Sul, another party favoring an immediate advance upon the dictator's forces and a third advocating a simple defense of the newborn independence of Rio Grande do Sul.

The dictator has replied to these overtures by appointing a commission of three generals with power to make preliminary arrangements with the representatives of the junta. It is understood that one of the main points to be discussed between the representatives of the junta and the representatives of the dictator will be the possibility of a union between Rio do Sul and the republic of Uruguay and the title of the republic of the south. This, however, is only one of the important questions on the tapis.

In the meanwhile both sides are straining every nerve in preparation for war. The dictator, as already announced in these dispatches, has announced a "special credit" of 13,000,000 of milreis, which sum is to be devoted to the arming and equipping of his troops and to the purchase of arms, ammunition and other war material abroad.

It is said in this connection that both parties have agents in New York and London who are commissioned to obtain war material for the dictator, and for the junta of the blossoming republic of the south (Republica do Sul).

The only question at issue in regard to these proposed purchases seems to be the important one of payment. British merchants here, as already cabled, have declined to execute orders for "machinery and other apparatus for the development of Brazilian industries," on the ground that they fear a further fall in the rate of exchange.

These refusals, it will be remembered, were made in face of the fact that the Brazilians offered to deposit an ample amount of paper currency with the Bank of England, as security.

In this connection it is now surmised that the "machinery and other apparatus for the development of Brazilian industries" may have been, in some cases at least, machinery and other apparatus for the development of the war industry in Brazil.

A Consultation.

New York, Nov. 18.—The Herald's correspondent at Buenos Ayres telegraphs his paper that the three generals sent by Dictator Fonseca from Rio Janeiro to Rio Grande do Sul to open negotiations with the insurgents have gone up the river to meet the junta's leaders.

The corvette Paranayra is siding with the revolutionists, and is employed in clearing obstructions in the canal so as to permit the passage of vessels containing supplies for the insurgents.

Dr. Assiz Brazil, one of the prominent members of the junta, says it has 15,000 men equipped, and hopes to increase the number to 50,000.

The report is confirmed that all the government troops in the state of Rio Grande do Sul, with the exception of the garrison at Yoguaron, remain neutral.

Delgado's House Robbed.

New York, Nov. 18.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says that a dispatch from the territory of Formosa states that a number of revolutionists from Paraguay have sacked the residence of Gov. Delgado.

The latter, with his troops, made a determined resistance, and is said to hove been wounded. Several of his officers were killed. Additional troops have been sent from Buenos Ayres to protect the colonies in Formosa from further attacks from the Paraguayan revolutionists. The country seems on the eve of another revolution. Signs of ferment are noticeable everywhere. Two rivals are in the field for the presidency—namely, Dr. Pizarro and Gen. Mitre.

It is reported that the garrison at Rosario, in Santa Fe province, has mutinied on account of not being paid wages, and have taken charge of the town.

The London End.

London, Nov. 18.—In spite of the announcement sent out in the interest of Da Fonseca to the effect that the second anniversary of the proclamation of the republic of Brazil was celebrated at Rio Janeiro with a military review and fetes, the United Press correspondent in this city is in a position to state that this is to all intents and purposes nothing more than a "blind." Rio Janeiro, when the "official" announcement was made, was in a most rigorous state of siege and the review and fetes consisted of little more than a parade of a garrison.

Code messages received here to-day by the Commercial Cable company report that all messages have been stopped by the order of the dictator.

In addition, the postal service throughout Brazil has been suspended and the utmost confusion and alarm prevails in business and other quarters.

The dictator is now on the defensive and this alone shows that the trouble in Rio Grande is certainly more than "local" in its character.

But this is not the only news of importance received from Brazil to-day. It has previously been stated in these dispatches that it was reported the province of Para, or Grao Para, having an area of over 400,000 square miles, and a population of about 300,000, had decided to declare itself independent.

This assertion is repeated to-day. This province is one of the richest in Brazil, its capital, Para, or Belem, a handsome seaport city, having a large trade with Liverpool, London, Barbadoes, New York and Brazilian ports.

If this report turns out to be correct, and there now seems no reason to doubt it, the secession of Para will prove a terrible blow to the cause of the dictator. The commission sent to Uruguay by the nationalist party, in order to persuade that country not to allow the troops of Marshal Da Fonseca to violate its territory and to purchase arms and ammunition, has met with much success.

It is now considered certain that Uruguay will prevent the dictator's troops from crossing the frontier. Arms and ammunition are said to have been secured in considerable quantities, and it is reported that a number of Uruguayan officers are to join or have joined the national forces.

Alarmists Put to Death.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Nov. 18.—The steamer Magdalena, which has just arrived at this port, from Rio Janeiro, reports everything quiet in that city. The diplomatic corps, however, had not up to the time the vessel left, recognized Fonseca as dictator. Baron Lacena, the imperialist member of the Brazilian cabinet, was regarded as Fonseca's chief adviser in his dissolution of congress and assumption of dictatorial power.

Three generals of the government troops, with their staffs, had started for the state of Rio Grande do Sul, authorized by Fonseca to conduct negotiations with the revolutionists.

It is said that the committee of the junta is adopting severe measures against all persons spreading false reports concerning the revolt. Some of these persons, it was said, have been imprisoned and others have been shot. Dissensions and quarrels are rife among the Brazilian insurgents.

LOVE'S LABOR WILL BE LOST.

Lima, O., Nov. 18.—The ministers of this city are making an effort for the formation of a Sabbath association. The object of the organization will be to enforce the Sunday laws, particularly in reference to the publication and circulation of Sunday newspapers, which, at a recent meeting, were branded as being pointed to by the Sunday barber shop, Sunday baseball, Sunday saloon, etc., as their justification.

MUNCIE TO HAVE A BOOM.

Toledo Institutions to Help It Along.

The Bolt and Nut Works and Rolling Mill to Go Where Cheap Gas Can Be Secured.

Muncie, Ind., Nov. 18.—To-day the Muncie Land company was incorporated in this city, and one of the largest and most important land deals ever consummated in the state was closed.

The board of directors are: Col. A. L. Conger, F. M. Atterholt and K. B. Conger, of Akron, O.; Monroe Seiberling, of Kokomo, and A. L. Kerwood, of Muncie.

The officers of the company are: President, A. L. Conger, Akron; vice president, A. L. Kerwood, Muncie; treasurer, K. B. Conger, Akron; secretary, Newton Ford, Elwood; general agent, A. J. Williams, Akron.

The company has unlimited capital, and is incorporated with $250,000 capital stock.

James A. Bishop, formerly of Cincinnati, closed the sale of nearly 125 acres of land adjoining the city, on the south of which the company will locate numerous immense manufacturing concerns, five of which have already been anchored, which represent nearly $1,000,000 and employ over 1,900 workmen. They are the Toledo, O., bolt and nut works, under the management of George O. Cromwell, and the Toledo rolling mills, each employing about 400 men.

The third is a large steel mill to be operated by Pittsburg and Chicago capitalists, manufacturing stove ranges, blooms, billets and tin plates, with a capital stock of $200,000.

A corrugated and galvanized iron industry by Chicago and St. Louis parties, and a large bar steel manufacturing establishment to be operated by Akron capitalists are other concerns that will bring several hundred laborers to the city.

FIND SOME OTHER MAN.

Sherman Will Not Object to Brice Being Seated.

He Will Not Do the Bidding of Ward Heelers.

The Rag-Tag and Bob-Tail Press in the Republican Party Can Take Notice that the Man from Mansfield is Firm.

Mansfield, O., Nov. 18.—(Special)—Senator Sherman has written a letter to the chairman of the Ohio state central committee in which he outlines his policy in reference to the seat held by Senator Brice. The senator will not state what was in the letter but the following interview will prove interesting:

Said he: "It is not my place, in my judgment, to rise in my seat in the senate and object to the swearing in of Mr. Brice. This for the reason that such objection would fail of the purpose, and I would be placed in the light of ridicule. Suppose, though, I did interpose such objection. At once I would be asked upon what ground I made it. I would then reply, 'Upon the alleged grounds that Mr. Brice is not a resident of the state of Ohio.' What next? Why, I would be asked, 'What proof have you to such allegation?'

"'I have none at all.' I would be compelled to say, and an objection thus made would be perilous. Mr. Brice will appear at the bar of the senate, and with his credentials in due form he can not be prevented from taking his seat upon anybody's objection.

"But if there is the belief upon the part of the people of Ohio that Mr. Brice is constitutionally ineligible there is a way to reach it. A memorial from the legislature of Ohio making the charge would put the senate upon inquiry. The election of a senator in his place, with the charge made by a resolution of the Ohio assembly would reach it. Any citizen of Ohio who would make such charge in writing, either in the form of affidavit or belief, would reach it.

"But in making such charge, from whatever source it might come, the proof likewise would have to accompany it. The senate of the United States acts only upon positive information, and not upon rumor. I have served long enough in the body to well know the usage. Through its committee of privileges and elections it would conduct a formal examination, take the testimony of witnesses under oath, and the members of the senate would pass upon it as a judicial body. The senate would be the court and each member a judge."

Said I: "Senator, what would be the effect if an objection upon your part to Mr. Brice taking his seat, if subsequently you were called upon to vote upon the merits of the case in a judicial capacity?"

"It would be one of embarrassment. In a sense, I would appear in the light of a prosecutor, and my right to vote might be questioned. Now, in the Payne case, there was an allegation of bribery, and proof was offered to sustain it. No one charges Mr. Brice with bribery. If such were the charge, and in proper form it was handed to me, I would have no hesitation in calling the attention of the senate to it when Mr. Brice apeared at the bar to take the oath."

Mr. Sherman then alluded in the most kindly spirit to Gov. Foraker. Said he: "At the convention which first nominated him for governor I was the presiding officer. I had pledged Judge Foraker, he was then judge, my support. There was a movement made to nominate myself, when I declared I would not accept it if made, for I had given my word to Foraker and it must hold good. True, he was defeated, but under the conditions then existing I think any other nominee would have been defeated.

Two years ago, when he ran again, I went to Columbus and I found him in a sick bed. I then told him that I had come to the capital city to do my very best for him, and I made a speech the same night in his advocacy in which I enlisted my every energy.

"General Sherman, my brother, paid him publicly a flattering tribute. I say this to cherish the hope that there may be only good temper in the contest. Now, when a few days ago I said to you that Governor Foraker was deceived in his estimate of votes, and instanced how readily he is deceived by an allusion to the ballot-box forgery. I had no intention to convey any offensive meaning. I said it, and you properly printed it, but I had no hidden meaning in the allusion."

KANSAS CITY'S GOLD MINE.

Millions Thought to be Buried There.

If the Assay Holds Out, and the Find is Not Salted, It is Worth $2,000,000 to the Acre.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 18.—A shaft will probably be sunk on the land owned by George R. Nelson, across the river, for the purpose of testing the value of the discovery of gold made by Mr. Wentrock.

City Engineer Butts and Mr. Nelson held a conference, and Mr. Butts said that his confidence in the discovery is such that if reasonable terms can be made he is willing to bear the expense of sinking the shaft. He estimates that it will cost about $1,000.

This morning he said: "I am satisfied that the bed of gold-bearing sand lies below the shale. The boring was so carefully done as to warrant that opinion. I don't know how thick the auriferous stratum is but it probably extends twenty or thirty feet down. You know we went into it only four feet. Comments on this discovery are based on the experience of all the Missouri Valley towns where gold has been found in the sands, but not in paying quantities. Note this important distinction. This gold was deposited here before any Missouri river. It is beneath the shale. In my opinion the deposit covers at least 2,000 or 3,000 acres. Of course if the gold-bearing sands extends under it there is at least $1,000,000 in it."

Mr. George Nelson, on whose land the gold was discovered, is not excited thereby, but is said to be preparing to make a thorough test. He says: "If the auriferous bed extends under the Harlem bend, Mr. Lipscomb, my attorney, figures that, at the rate per ton given by the assay, there is $2,000,000 under each acre. I have already been approached by parties desirous of buying. One man asked me to fix a price on 100 acres. We will see what there is in it. Of course, if the discovery is what it seems to be, and what Mr. Butts believes it to be, there will be a rush of people into Kansas City like the rush to California."

The general opinion among the people is that the value of Mr. Wentrock's discovery should be tested at once. The known facts are too slender to base valuable conclusions upon. People accept them for what they are and demand a thorough test. The genuineness of the assay and the good faith in which the sample was selected are generally accepted. All that remains is a thorough test on a larger scale.

THE ELLIOTT CASE.

The Supreme Court Gives Him Another Chance.

Columbus, Nov. 18.—The supreme court has announced a decision in the case of W. J. Elliott, the murderer of A. C. Osborn and W. L. Hughes.

The motion for leave to file a petition in error to the common pleas court of this county is allowed. Although the decision is, in no sense, based on the merits of the case, it gives Elliott another hearing on a petition to the supreme court.

After his petition is filed the court will consider the questions of guilt and degree of crime on the merits of the evidence as submitted in the record of the common pleas court proceedings.

The final decision of the supreme court will be either remanding the case to the common pleas court for a new trial, affirming the decision of the lower court, or reversing the decision on the ground that the prisoner is not guilty as charged.

There have been very few cases, however, in which the supreme court has acquitted a prisoner. The course most often pursued is to remand the case to the lower court for a new trial, in which event the prisoner cannot be convicted of a higher grade of crime than that found in the verdict of the first jury.

In the meantime Elliott will remain in the penitentiary, the general supposition that he would be transferred to the county jail pending a final decision of his case being erroneous.

M'KNIGHT GOES BACK.

He Gets Out of the Frying Pan Into the Fire.

Sent Back to Wood County to be Tried for Forgery, the Charge for Which He Was Extradited.

Columbus, Nov. 18.—Hiram P. McKnight, the Wood county prisoner at the penitentiary, who seeks freedom by the habeas corpus route, was cast from the frying pan into the fire by a decision of the supreme court.

He was discharged from imprisonment in the penitentiary and remanded to the custody of the sheriff of Wood county.

McKnight based his plea in habeas corpus upon the fact that he was extradited from New York state on the charge of forgery and then tried and convicted on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

He argued that he could not be legally tried on a charge for which he had not been extradited, and the court decided in his favor on that point. The order returning him to the sheriff of Wood county places another phase upon McKnight's case, howver, as now he can be tried on the charge of forgery.

ART IN NEW YORK.

Famous Pictures Go Under the Hammer for Very Small Prices.

New York, Nov. 18.—The first night of the sale of the Vassili Verstchagin collection of paintings at the American art galleries was not a success as to prices, though the attendance was large. The bidding was far from spirited, except in a few instances, and though over $26,000 was realized for the 56 pictures sold, this sum will be far from satisfactory to the Russian artist.

The studies and pictures in Palestine and India were the only ones to come under the hammer last night. "Solomon's Wall," the best known of the Palestine pictures, brought the highest price of the night, $3,000.

THE STEAMER ST. PAUL.

Wickham & Co. Have Finally Won Their Suit.

A Case That Has Been of Much Interest to Lake Men for a Number of Years.

Norwalk, O., Nov. 18.—(Special)—The steamer St. Paul caught fire at Detour; was scuttled, raised and towed to Detroit.

The flames again broke out, the boat was again scuttled, raised and repaired, the insurance company paying for damages done by fire, but nothing further.

Wickham & Co., of Huron, owners of the St. Paul, sued for full damages.

The suit was carried from court to court, Wickham & Co. winning nearly every time.

To-day the United States supreme court rendered the decision in their favor. The amount involved is between $20,000 and $25,000.

CHICAGO IS NOT IN IT.

Norwalk, O., Nov. 18.—(Special)—Yesterday morning in the common pleas court in this county Judge Green granted a divorce to Ida Sutton, wife of Frank Sutton.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Sutton having taken her maiden name, Ida Reed, was married to W. S. Gaskill, of Buffalo, N. Y.

FARMERS IN SESSION.

Indianapolis, Nov. 18.—The delegates in attendance upon the Farmers' alliance and other reform movements here are about equally divided on the question of uniting and forming a third party. The sessions are held with closed doors.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 18.—City Commissioner C. M. Reilly will probably retire from the board and a democratic successor be appointed by Judge Wilson and Mayor Montgomery.

RAZED BY THE WIND.

Disastrous Gale in Binghampton, New York.

The Lester Boot and Shoe Factory Badly Damaged and Seven Hundred Hands Thrown Out of Work.

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Lester's boot and shoe factory at Lestershire, employing 700 hands, was partly demolished by the high gale yesterday.

The north wall went down with a terrific crash, and the hands, panic stricken, rushed for the doors and windows. Men trampled on each other in their mad flight. Fortunately no one was fatally injured.

Large posts used in the construction of the building kept the floor with its tons of machinery from sinking. The plant is valued at over $1,000,000.

Daniel Lamont and ex-Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild are the principal stockholders.

VALUABLE HOUSE BURNED.

St. Louis, Nov. 18.—The handsome residence of John A. Scudder in Vandeven place burned this morning. The house contained many valuable works of art. Loss, $65,000; insurance, $25,000.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.

Newburg, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Dr. Charles Buechler, of New York city, who had his arm crushed by the noon express on the West Shore road Monday at Cranston's station, died yesterday.

Seitz's Vote.

Columbus, Nov. 18.—Election returns of the people's party vote are all in and they show that Seitz received just 23,668.

LOST BIG HORN MINE.

A Romantic Story Told by the Wires

Of the Searches for Gold in the Northwest.

The Disappointment Followed by the Location of the Present Rich Camp — An Interesting Tale.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 18.—Considerable excitement has been caused among old-time placer miners by the story of rich deposits of gold found in the Big Horn Mountains in Wyoming, just over the Montana line and not far from the southern border of Custer county.

The story of the discovery rivals that of the fabled Lost Cabin mine, and differs from that mythical affair in that, while the latter much-written-of eldorado was seen but once and then seems to have disappeared from the face of the earth, the treasures of the Big Horn hills have been again unearthed after being lost for twenty years.

In the summer of 1889 Michael Rapley, Hy Upham and John Eads, the latter a brother of the great Mississippi river engineer, equipped with prospectors' outfits, rode into Hyattville, on Point Rock creek, near Buffalo, Wy., and stopped over night. They were all pretty well along in years to be beating about the country, but explained that they had come from Montana and were going into the mountains. They left early next morning, and were gone two months. At the end of that time they returned to Hyattville, worn out and dejected, and told their story to the men with whom they happened to spend the evening. They said that eighteen years before, in company with several others they went into the Big Horn Mountains on a prospecting tour. They were well equipped with mules, carts, prospecting tools and provisions. It was not long before they found plenty of coarse gold. Timber being plentiful they built several log cabins and mad themselves generally comfortable. At the close of the season, having enough dust, some $78,000, to take them east and keep them in fine style for some time, they stowed their tools away, and taking everything else but two dirt carts with them they went east and had a big time.

The next summer the Indians were hostile, and, fearing to venture back to their camp, the party went their several ways with the understanding that as soon as the coast was clear they would return to their find. The three who related the story at Hyattville went to Montana and there became interested in other mining properties. It was eight years before peace again settled over the Big Horn region, and the three forgot for the time the camp that had paid them so well. Now they had just returned to the Big Horn. But their search for the old landmarks were vain. They could find no trace of the carts, and a very tall mountain, but sparcely overgrown with vegetation, from which they were to take their bearings, could not be located.

After telling of their unsuccessful search the trio left for Montana. On the day of their departure, Lum Williams, a resident of Paint Rock creek, happened along and was told of the prospectors' experience. The narrative made his heart leap. Like a flash came the remembrance that eight years previous, while rambling over the range with a companion, he was surprised to run across two carts in a sort of gulch. In the bed of one, which stood on the hillside, squirrels had evidently held possession for years as it was filled with parts of their nests, the other was lower down the gulch and great weeds and shrubs, manifestly the growth of years, had sprung up through the spokes of the wheels and the cracks in the bed.

William said nothing to anybody at Hyattville about the carts he had seen so many years before. He disappeared next day and began a search for the place. During the intervening time nature had been busy changing the appearance of the landscape, and the undergrowth and shrubbery had completed the work of hiding the camp from him as successfully as it had from those who preceded him. Disappointed in his search he began prospecting, and found placer gold where now Bald Mountain camp is flourishing.

He stopped right there and built himself a hut. While hunting his horse, which had strayed away over night, Williams ran across the crumbling ruins of half a dozen cabins in a thickly wooded part of the ravine. In imminent danger of the rotted beams falling about the ears of the man whose footsteps disturbed the silence and decay of time, he entered one of the open doorways. A stove and cooking utensils, miners picks and other things usually found in a prospector's outfit were there, covered with the rust of neglect. On the earth floor was a crumbling piece of paper. He picked it up. It proved to be the remnant of an old envelope. Close scrutiny revealed the name of "John Eads." This was enough. Williams knew he had found the land of gold.

Taking careful note of the surrounding landmarks, he turned back to Paint Rock creek. There he told his brother and brother-in-law of the find. It was too late to do anything that season, as it was now dangerously near the time when a trip into the hills meant a stay of all winter, and they were not even sure they could make the place before snow fell. They put off starting until the next summer, meantime keeping their mouths closely shut. Next summer they started, well equipped to stay an indefinite time. People then began to recall Williams' sudden departure after hearing the old prospector's story, his somewhat prolonged absence, his mysterious return, and the equally sudden departure of him and his two relatives. Several ineffectual attempts were made to follow them, and finally the matter was forgotten.

It was not until the last summer that anything more was heard of the three. Williams got hurt by a falling tree during a storm and his injuries were so serious that his companions had to go for a physician. The nearest one was at Buffalo. The doctor staid in the camp two weeks. He learned enough in that time to tell the people when he got back that Williams had found the lost treasure of Big Horn mountains. The news spread and now the place is a bee hive of industry.

OVER HALF A MILLION.

Serious Conflagration in St. Paul This Morning.

A Stubborn Blaze in the Heart of the Business Center Gave the Firemen a Hard Battle.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—At 12:30 this morning the large block occupied by Griggs, Cooper & Co., wholesale grocers, was entirely destroyed by fire.

The building occupied a block in the center of the jobbing district and a stubborn fight was made to confine the blaze to the block in which it originated.

The adjoining block, occupied by Farwell, Osum, Kirk & Co., wholesale dealers in hardware, was partially destroyed. The loss will reach $500,000 to $700,000, fully insured.

DUEL UNTO DEATH.

Two Leaders Fighting for Political Life,

Urged on by Two Bitter Factions in Ohio.

The Ex-Governor's Treachery to the Honored Senator

Has Never Been Forgotten by the Mansfield Sage.

Foraker Went to the National Convention and Knifed His Leader—Some Interesting History That Is Not Very Ancient.

Columbus, Nov. 17.—With Foraker and Sherman as contending candidates for the United States senate, many striking incidents of the last national republican convention were recalled.

Foraker was then serving his second term as governor of Ohio. Ohio was a Blaine state, though the state convention of the preceding year had declared for Sherman. When the republican state convention of 1888 was held at Dayton for the selection of delegates-at large to the national convention, four men were selected by ballot. They were J. B. Foraker, Charles Foster, Wm. McKinley, jr., and Benjamin Butterworth. The republican press made a great show of harmony in talking of the "Big Four," as the delegates-at-large were enthusiastically termed.

Meanwhile the congressional district conventions were being held over the state. The Foraker men were quietly selecting Foraker delegates to Chicago, who were instructed for Sherman. The reports of district after district instructing for Sherman made it seem "easy sledding" to the friends of the Mansfield statesman. It was not until it was time to go to Chicago that Senator Sherman found he had a delegation that was for anybody but him; that it was ready to break for Blaine on a moment's notice, but, underlying all, it was for Foraker for president. So quietly had the Foraker people conducted their campaign that they had secured the delegates in the districts of Judge Thompson and Gen. Grosvenor without being suspected.

On arriving at Chicago the Ohio delegation stopped at the Grand Pacific hotel. By this time Gov. Foraker was universally suspected of a desire to knife Sherman. As a result the "Big Four" separated. Mark Hanna, of Cleveland, Butterworth, Foster and McKinley opened up private Sherman headquarters in one portion of the hotel, while Foraker, surrounded by men like Cappeller, of Mansfield, the Beatons, George Cox and "Doc" Graydon, of Cincinnati; Charlie Kurtz and others, established headquarters in another portion of the hotel. It was no longer a secret that Ohio was knifing Sherman. Indeed, he was already slaughtered. The Alger men had bought the Sherman negro delegation from the south. When a Sherman man asked for support from another state he received the reply, "Why, your man can't hold Ohio. If he had a chance to be nominated your delegation would leave him." Gov. Foraker and Gen. Charles Grosvenor almost came to blows in the hotel while discussing the matter, and Foraker was accused of treachery on every hand.

Sherman and his friends, including Foster, McKinley, Butterworth, Hanna, Grosvenor and Thompson, left Chicago, after Harrison's nomination, feeling that had it not been for Foraker's chicanery they might have presented a solid front for Sherman, and thereby have insured his nomination. Perhaps the most bitter man against Foraker was Mark Hanna. He denounced the ex-governor as a whippersnapper, a fraud and an adventurer.

When Foraker, using the same methods by which he had succeeded in getting himself to the front and Sherman to the rear at Chicago, secured the nomination for a third term for governor, there was frigidity in the Sherman ranks. Mr. Hanna, who is an iron king and banker, did not raise funds for him. Messrs. Foster, McKinley, Sherman, Grosvenor and others, gave him about such support on the stump as Campbell received from some democrats in the recent campaign. To cap the climax, the ballot-box conspiracy (which Foraker had nursed) was exposed, with the names of Sherman, McKinley and Butterworth forged to the contract. It was a strange coincidence that they were the same three men with whom he had crossed swords at Chicago, and who had denounced him as a traitor. It was not so strange, however, that Foraker was beaten for governor by nearly 12,000 plurality, while the rest of his ticket was elected.

These historical facts have been given to show the feeling that must enter into the senatorial race now on between Sherman and Foraker.

When Foraker was defeated, with the ballot-box stench enveloping him, it was predicted he was dead politically. He was galvanized into life to place McKinley in nomination before the republican state convention as a further evidence of harmony. Then he began immediately his campaign for senator. He had gathered around him a number of young men, as aggressive, impulsive and vigorous as himself. These sprigs started out over the state to slyly capture the legislative nominations, as they had the national delegates in 1888. Personally Foraker made no concealment of the fact that he was a candidate for senator. He said to a friend in Cincinnati concerning Sherman: "He is foxy and shrewd, but I think I will down him."

But the Sherman men were not overlooking anything. The senator's lieutenants differ from Foraker's in that they are conservative, reticent and not inclined to show their hand. They looked after the nominations in the close and doubtful as well as in the reliably republican counties. Even where there was a forlorn hope they preferred it should be led by a Sherman man rather than by a Foraker man. The wisdom of this policy is shown by the returns, as several Sherman republicans are elected in democratic counties and districts.

As it stands to-day both Sherman and Foraker claim their election. In many instances both claim the same men. It is conceded that Foraker has 14 in Hamilton county to lead off with, which is not bad. Then his friends claim the senators and representatives from Cuyahoga county, which causes one to doubt the stability of their general claim. Mark Hanna has not sulked in this campaign. Republicans in this state never before enjoyed so fat a campaign fund. Mr. Hanna not only contributed liberally himself but he called upon fellow-capitalists in Cleveland and went over to the protected city of Pittsburg and levied $100,000 upon the iron barons and glass manufacturers. Mr. Hanna is not a child in politics or finance, and has never been labeled anybody's fool.

When he gave his money and his time and raised a purse besides he was not doing it to elect the Ohio Fire Alarm to the senate. He was reasonably interested in McKinley's success, but what he had at heart more than anything else was the election of a republican legislature and the re-election of Sherman, his personal friend, to the United States senate. It is said in Cleveland that Hanna would part with one of his many millions rather than see Foraker succeed.

There is quite a number of members-elect of the next general assembly who are not in a hurry to commit themselves. Some have come out for Foraker and some for Sherman. Of the openly declared Sherman has the majority. There are many still open to conviction and others who may change their opinions before the caucus meets. There is a chance for great missionary work. The country may again resound with news like that which has gone out from Columbus on the occasion of several previous sales of the United States senatorship. The money is not all necessarily on Sherman's side. Foraker is not rich, but he is backed by Asa Bushnell, the millionaire reaper manufacturer of Springfield, and Gen. Alger, of Michigan, whose presidential aspirations clashed with those of Sherman at Chicago.

A MINER'S NOBLE ACT

Resulted in His Losing His Own Life.

A Brave Man Meets a Frightful Death While Trying to Save His Fellow Men From Danger.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 18.—Napoleon De Montague, a miner, was killed yesterday in the Lance colliery at Plymouth, while endeavoring to save his fellow workmen from a terrible death. He had fired a shot and ran behind a pillar. When it exploded the flash set fire to some gas near the roof of a chamber communicating with the main gateway.

Realizing that the fire might spread in a moment through the whole mine, De Montague tore off his coat and smothered the flame. Just as the fire was extinguished the roof of the chamber loosened by the blast, fell upon him. He was extricated as soon as possible, but only to die in the arms of his rescuers.

Had the fire spread to the large bodies of gas in the mine a terrible explosion would have followed, endangering the lives of over a hundred men. De Montague leaves a widow and five children.

NO LESS THAN MURDER.

Nally's Death to be Investigated Thoroughly.

The Coroner's Verdict Furnishes Food for Reflection.

The Noted Irish Nationalist Came to His Death by Harsh Treatment at the Hands of His Keepers in Millbank Prison.

Dublin, Nov. 18.—The death of P. W. Nally, the noted Irish national patriot, who died Monday in Mt. Joy prison and whose remains have just been interred in Glasnevan cemetery, near this city, will undoubtedly prove one of the sensational features of the battle fought in parliament immediately after the assembling of the house.

For once it is expected the sympathies of even the most rabid Tories will be enlisted in the approaching inquiry for it is claimed that Nally's death was directly due to most infamous treatment received at the hands of the keepers of the Millbank prison, London, where Nally was detained previous to being transferred to Mt. Joy prison.

An unbiased coroner's jury yesterday rendered a well-considered verdict to the effect that P. W. Nally instead of dying from typhoid fever, as announced by the prison officials, died from the effects of harsh and cruel treatment the unfortunate Irishman had been compelled to endure in Millbank prison.

Of course it is possible upon being subjected to a parliamentary investigation that the serious charges made against the keepers of the Millbank prison may dwindle down to a comparatively small matter, but the facts remain that a coroner's jury, which inquired into the cause of Nally's death have most distinctly and emphatically announced in their official decision that Nally's death was caused by most harsh and most cruel treatment received at the hands of the prison officials of the Millbank jail.

Mr. William O'Brien, John Dillon and Justin McCarthy have had their attention called to this matter and they are already arraying them with facts gathered from the coroner's inquest and elsewhere in order to be prepared to make the death of Nally a battering ram with which to make a powerful onslaught upon the conservative government.

Mr. Gladstone's attention has also been called to the matter and it is expected that he will not let such a chance of pummeling the Tories escape him easily. The Irish members intend to make Nally's death the basis for asking for a full public inquiry into the treatment of Irish prisoners.

An Irish member of parliament, who has taken a great interest in Nally's fate, referring to the facts given above said to-day:

"You have very little idea of the cruelty with which Irish political prisoners are treated. There is an idea in some quarters that anything an Irishman may say against the British government, against the police or constabulary, or against British prisons must, beyond any doubt, be grossly exaggerated and highly ridiculous.

"As a fact, however, not one half of the real truth is known in connection with British abuse of power when Irishmen are concerned. If we succeed in obtaining the appointment of a commission to inquire into the treatment Irish political prisoners receive, there will be some facts unearthed which will cause Siberian methods to be thrown into the shade."

Nally was sentenced at the Cork assizes in 1883 to ten years penal servitude for complicity in the Cross-Molina conspiracy cases. He was a brother of Dr. Nally, of Mayo, and a cousin of the well-known "Scrab" Nally.

The deceased agitator's friends in Dublin have determined to assist the Irish members of parliament in every way possible in their efforts to bring about the public inquiry into the treatment Irish political prisoners receive in British jails.

DREADFUL SKIN DISEASE

Afflicts a Well-Known Merchant. Itching and Burning Terrible. Doctors and All Remedies Fail.

Tries Cuticura. Relieved by the First Application and Entirely Cured in Five Weeks.

About eighteen months ago a small speck appeared on my ankle; it resembled a fish scale; it became larger, and I consulted a physician who pronounced it psoriasis, or monied disease, because it resembled money. I applied an ointment, but it spread until at last it covered almost my entire body. My suffering was something terrible, burning and itching sensations continually until it became almost unendurable. I suffered tortures especially at night, and for two months I was compelled to sleep with gloves on. I became desperate. I would have given anything to be relieved of the itching sensation. I tried a number of remedies without any relief. I was requested to try CUTICURA; this I did, and to my great surprise I was relieved after the first application. I used the CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLENT according to directions for about four or five weeks when I was entirely cured. But what a relief it was to me after the suffering I went through. I cannot speak with too much favor for the "CUTICURA REMEDIES," and I would recommend it to all those suffering from the same disease that I have suffered. JOHN T. MELODY, of Melody Brothers, Wyandotte, Mich.

WHEN THE GAVEL FELL

The Fifteenth General Assembly of the Knights of Labor

Concluded Its Labors Late Last Evening.

What Was Done in the Closing Session—Social Reunion Last Night—The Next Convention—A Bit of History—Notes.

The "good-bys till next year" sounded in the corridors of the Jefferson and Burnett this morning, as Knights of Labor from the east and west, north and south, shook hands for the last time in Toledo this morning. A great many of the delegates left yesterday, late in the afternoon, and still more went out on late evening trains, after the close of the general assembly, the convention adjourning at 8 o'clock, city time, with singing of Tom O'Reilly's labor ode, and after a brief speech by General Master Workman Powderly.

Resolutions Adopted.

Resolved, That this general assembly does emphatically condemn the pernicious recommendation as made by the New York state board of mediation and arbitration for their unfair and one-sided report of the strike on the New York Central railroad, and on the lockout by the Rochester (N. Y.) clothing manufacturers;

Resolved, That we condemn the said board and those who persistently keep it in power, for its gratuitous insults to our general officers for the stand they have taken on behalf of our order.

Resolved, That we urge upon the order in New York state to do all in its power to remove said board from office.

Resolved, That this general assembly indorses and emphasizes the course of the national executive board of National Trades assembly 231 in requesting all fair workingmen to refrain from purchasing goods manufactured by the members of the clothing manufacturers' combine of Rochester, N. Y., or in any way patronizing them.

Resolved, further, That the representatives in this general assembly be and are hereby instructed to urge upon the bodies they represent the duty of lending all possible assistance to National Trades assembly 231 in its struggle for justice against these unjust and tyrannical employers; and be it further

Resolved, That the general executive board be instructed to extend to the said national trades assembly all assistance in their power.

Resolved, That this general assembly, having read the statement made by Mr. Frederick Turner, ex-treasurer of this Order, reflecting upon the conduct and character of the general master workman, and having heard the reply of our general master workman to the said statement, we heartily express our condemnation of the conduct of the said Turner, and our entire disbelief in his statements; and further, that we declare our unaltered and unabated confidence in the general master workman, and our indorsement of his action in the matter referred to in the said statement.

Whereas, It has been announced in the public press that the firm of Gobel & Co., stone contractors, are the lowest bidders for furnishing stone and labor for the building of the new postoffice in the city of Detroit, Mich; and

Whereas, It is also stated that the said firm of Gobel & Co. employ convict labor; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the general secretary be instructed to enter the protest of this Order against the awarding of the contract to that or any other firm or corporation that employs convict labor.

The business of the afternoon session was perhaps the most important transacted during the entire convention, and was upon reports of various committees. Of interest to the public was the following from

The Committee on Legislation.

Recommending the continuance of the order in the agitation for government control of railroads, and endorsing that portion of General Master Workman Powderly's report relative thereto.

Recommending that the agitation for ballot reform be continued by the order until the Australian system of voting prevails through every state of the Union.

Recommending that the demand be continued for the abolition of trusts and combines by legislative enactments and the repeal of class laws.

Demanding the better enforcement of the laws now enacted to regulate immigration.

Recommending that the report of the General Executive Board upon the plate printers' trouble at Washington be printed for general distribution.

Demanding that the national government instruct Commissioner of Labor Wright to proceed through his department to investigate the condition of the slums in the cities of the United States of more than 200,000 inhabitants.

The report of the committee on legislation was unanimously adopted. The next to report was

The Committee on Good of the Order.

This committee recommended that the order shall continue to denounce the leasing of labor of convicts to contractors, the working of convicts outside of penitentiaries, and demanding that all convict-made goods be plainly and indelibly stamped before being put upon the market. This part of the report was adopted, although one voice was raised asking that the matter be referred to the miners at Briceville, Tenn.

The committee reported unfavorably upon the establishment of a uniform rank in the order, and the report was concurred in.

The committee urged on the members renewed zeal in increasing the circulation of the Journal of the Knights of Labor, and reported adversely upon changing the name of this official organ. Concurred in.

The committee recommended that the records, books, etc., of all local assemblies be inspected by the district, national trade, state, or general assembly to which the local is attached, whenever it may seem necessary to the officers of the body under whose jurisdiction the local works. Adopted.

Recommended that the general executive board be instructed to push the use of the K. of L. label, and the purchase of K. of L. made goods bearing the label. Adopted, and the shoemakers' labeled goods specially recommended for immediate attention.

Recommended that the general executive board secure special organizers for the lake seaman's unions, the metal polishers, the iron workers and a number of other trades. Adopted.

A Gavel with a History.

When the work of the convention was concluded, General Master Workman Powderly made a brief speech, thanking the delegates for their earnest work, their uniform courtesy to one another and to the chair, and expressing his belief (in which all concur) that this session of the general assembly is one of the best for the order and for the public good that has ever been held. In calling the representatives to their feet to join in singing the closing ode Mr. Powderly said:

"This gavel which I now hold in my hand, with which I called this convention into being, and with which it will be adjourned sine die, has a history, which is briefly this:

"I turned this gavel in 1872, when I was a workman in the Delaware & Lackawanna shops in Scranton.

"It was first used in 1874 in calling to order the international convention of the Machinists and Blacksmiths unions in Louisville, Ky.

"It has opened and closed every session of the general assembly of the Knights of Labor, beginning in Reading, Pa., in 1878.

"It was used at the great Irish convention in New York city in 1881.

"It was used at the monster meeting in Scranton when Charles Stewart Parnell spoke there.

"It was used by the presiding officer of the Windowglass FederationG of the world, July 14, 1886, at St. Helena, England.

"At the world's fair in Paris, in 1889, it was used by Monsieur Vesseyier in opening the meetings of the Society of Social Economy, and has been used in various other important meetings."

In its early days it was of plain wood, walnut and cherry. It is now banded with silver in various places, and the silver engraved with dates and names of these various conventions. Mr. Powderly has a number of gavels, including the cherry one which is a war relic, and the one of silver and Colorado stones presented by the Colorado knights, but this historic one is his favorite.

A general handshake and God-speed closed the fifteenth assembly of the Knights of Labor at 8 p. m. Tuesday evening, November 17, 1891.

Notes.

A number of delegates will visit the asylum this afternoon.

The Joan of Arc girls gave a social reunion to the delegates in Walbridge hall last evening, and a delightful time was had.

Representatives go away delighted with their entertainment here, and of opinion that Toledo is good enough for them any year.

Tom Maguire, of D. A. 49, speaks in Sandusky this evening, under the auspices of L. A. 2727, one of the locals of D. A. 72.

Trustee Macomber, of the Manual Training school, will take Mr. Powderly, and other delegates who have heretofore been too busy to go, through the school this afternoon.

Joan of Arc assembly meets in regular session this evening. All members urged to be present, and the committee on Pythian Castle dance from L. A. 1942 is also asked to attend.

The cities receiving the highest number of votes for next year's convention are: Albany, N. Y., Hot Springs, Ark., and St. Louis, Mo. Between these three the general executive board will make a choice.

The Knights of the city feel that the meeting of convention will be in every way beneficial to the order here, and that they owe special thanks to Representatives Milton George, Greenan, and Maguire, of D. A. 49, New York city, for instituting a "school of '49" in D. A. 72. They hope to profit by what they have learned, and they will not forget what they owe '49."

At the dance last night Mr. Powderly discovered that Representative Snyder, of Galion, O., was foreman of a Galion shop in which he (Powderly) worked 18 years ago, when he was tramping the country, a blacklisted man. The two got into a corner, and had a long talk over those old days. It is sometimes forgotten by people who now see Mr. Powderly the honored head of a great organization that he has been a tramp himself, and knows "the other side" of the labor question from the standpoint of one who has slept upon hard boards, with only a newspaper for a covering. It is an experience likely to make a man true to labor's interest while he remembers it, and Mr. Powderly does not forget it, or seek to have it forgotten by others.

AN OLD MARRIAGE CONTRACT.

But They Don't Do It Thus in the Present Day and Age.

To the Editor:

The following formula of marriage, in 1554, is somewhat more, in extenso, than that which the newspapers say Justice Enright uses, and is presented to your readers as a curiosity of "ye ould tyme:"

(Elizabetha Bodye parochie Sancti Botulphi extra Aldersgate et Johannes Bykerton parochie Sancti Bartholomei parivi in Smythfeld contraxerunt matrimonium) per hec verba sequentia, vel eis in effectum consimilia; viz. the said John Bykerton havinge the said Elisabeth by the right hand, and speakinge to the said Elisabeth Bodye, said, howe saye yowe Elisabeth, can yowe fynde in your harte to forsake your fryndes and take mee, meaninge to her husbond; and the said Elisabeth conjunctis eorum manibus said yea, and the said John said I am contented, kysse me on that bargynne, and the said John and Elisabeth thereupon kyssed each other. Quodque post tractatum communicationem et contractum hujusmodi, dictus Johannes dyd send a lettre to said Elisabeth, which was delyvered her by Richard Hawowd oone of Maister Chidlayes servants, and by hyme redde; in which lettre the said John desired the said Elisabeth to sende hyme woorde, whether she were the same wooman she was before, meaninge when the said contracte was made and the said Elisabeth said to the said Richard, that she was the same wooman still, meaninge that she woold stande and abyde by the same promysse, made to the said John; and at the delyvery of the said lettre, the same Richard delyvered to the same Elisabeth a nutmegge, sayenge, he, meaninge the said John, hath sent yowe this token; the which nutmege the said Elisabeth thankfully receyved; and after the premisses, the said John said to the said Elisabeth and other persones then presente, that he woold have the bannes axed betweene them, whereunto the said Elisabeth agreed.—Hale's Precedents and Proceedings.

THERE WAS A TIE-UP

Consequent on the Breaking of an Electric Wire.

There was a general tie-up of street cars last night about 9:30, and for about an hour a wheel did not move except on one or two lines in the city.

The two wires supporting the crossing trollies at the intersection of St. Clair and Adams streets broke, and the trolley wires on each street swung almost to the ground for a block each way.

An alarm was phoned into the power houses, and the repair wagons came rushing to the scene at a regular fire department gait. In the meantime, as rapidly as cars arrived they were stopped, and soon Adams and St. Clair streets were both blocked with cars for two squares either way from the break. Horse cars which happened to be between two electric cars were also delayed.

Here is a slight foreshadowing of what can and may happen this winter when the ground is covered with snow. If an electric car gets stuck on Summit street or Broadway, horse cars and all will be laid out.

IN GOOD CONDITION.

Report of the Soldiers' Orphans Home at Xenia, O.

Columbus, O., Nov. 18.—The twenty-second annual report of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, at Xenia, was filed with the Governor to-day.

The report states that the health of the inmates has been much better during the last year in consequence of the sanitary improvements and the erection of the new hospital.

The report of the medical department shows that there have been 443 cases of sickness, most of them from local causes, 12 deaths, and eight accidents of a serious character. There are at present 900 children in the home, and an average of 848 during the year. The current expenses during the year were $115,502.33.

The salaries of officers, teachers and matrons, amounted to $23,276.94. The cost per capita was $163.65, or 44 cents per day. There are at present 205 children being maintained under contract in the county children's homes of the State, for whose support $20,735.63 was disbursed, and this fund is now exhausted.

FLORENCE IS IMPROVED.

The Doctors Greatly Encouraged by His Condition.

They Left Him at An Early Hour This Morning After Seeing Many Signs for the Better.

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—Actor William J. Florence is much better this morning than he has been since the last sacraments of the church were administered to him yesterday morning.

Drs. Pancoast, Da Costa and Dunnellan were in attendance upon the comedian until early this morning. When they saw so great a change for the better, they left for their homes in order to obtain a little much-needed rest.

WOODRUFF'S SHORTAGE.

Suit to be Brought Against His Bondsmen for the Amount Missing.

Little Rock, Nov. 18.—It was understood at the conclusion of the investigation by the State Burning Board that Governor Eagle would direct the Attorney-General to bring suit against ex-Treasurer Woodruff's bondsmen for the balance found due by the committee.

The matter was held in abeyance during Woodruff's trial in the Circuit court. Yesterday, however, Governor Eagle addressed a communication to Attorney-General W. E. Atkinson informing him officially of the findings of the Investigating Committee and directing him to bring suit in the proper course against the sureties of W. E. Woodruff, as State Treasurer, for the amount he owes the State, which will be remembered to have been, according to the report of the committee, about $130,000.

For a part of this Woodruff may have equities. Attorney-General Atkinson has the matter now under advisement, and will bring suit shortly for the amount. There are 83 sureties on Woodruff's five different bonds. Twenty-six of the 83 paid the currency shortage of $64,900.

Prosecuting Attorney W. H. Pemberton made application this morning for a new trial in the Woodruff case. The court said there could be nothing done at the present term of court as the docket was too heavy. The case will not come up until the March term.

LOW WATER

In the Maumee Gives the Water Works Department Some Trouble.

The water in the river has been exceedingly low for some time, and it reached its lowest stage yesterday. Besides interfering with vessels in the harbor, this extremely low water has hampered the water works department. For twelve hours yesterday the water was being hoisted 28 feet by the suction lift, this being about 8 feet more than usual at the ordinary stage of the river. The lowest point was reached about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and continued on in the night. The water had raised considerable this morning.

The water was lower yesterday than it has been at any time for two years past, and all three engines at the pumping station were brought into service, yet even with these Superintendent Cotter found it necessary to notify Chief Wall of the fire department that he could not raise the pressure in case of fire, as the engines were already doing their best work to maintain a pressure of 75 pounds.

WILL CUT THE GAS OFF.

The Water Works Pumping Station to Be Deprived of City Gas.

Superintendent Cotter, of the water works department, received notice this morning stating that the natural gas from the city pipe line is to be shut off at the pumping station, and warning him to make arrangements for other fuel.

A special meeting of the board of water works trustees will be called immediately to take action in the matter.

The water works department is not very well pleased with the prospect, and consider it unfair to be cut off from the city gas. They put in their own pipe line from Bowman street to the pumping station, made all their own connections, and commenced receiving gas from the city mains the first of last June. Besides this the water works board donated $1,000 to the gas trustees to help them along.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. Herman Mohr and family, living at the corner of Baker and Lagrange streets, had a narrow escape from suffocation last night. Mr. Mohr awoke to find the house filled with the odor of fuel gas, and immediately arose to search for the leak. The gas in the stove was burning, and he could find no evidence of a leak. Fresh air restored the members of his family, but not until they had inhaled enough to cause the children to become quite ill. How the house became filled with gas is a mystery.

CUT OFF THE GAS.

Orders Issued That No Factory Shall Have It.

Peculiar Action of the Gas Trustees in Letting More Contracts—Meeting This Afternoon.

A special meeting of the board of natural gas trustees has been called for this afternoon to take some action on the supply of gas. There is Ned to pay all over and it is absolutely necessary that the city take some decisive action.

This morning imperative orders were issued that every factory and large concern be immediately cut off.

It is peculiar that notwithstanding Mr. Brown's resolution that no more lines be laid, the board continues to make contracts. At the last meeting a contract for furnishing and laying about 10 miles of pipe was awarded.

Manager Heston and Superintendent O'Herron have both protested against laying any more pipe this season, but some members of the board persist in letting contracts.

President Parsons has consistently opposed laying any more pipe, and the recent contract was awarded by a vote of 2 to 1, Messrs. Brown and Backus being absent.

MAJOR DANE'S LECTURE.

The popularity of the Star Course under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. was again attested last night, when Wheeler's opera house was crowded to hear Major H. C. Dane lecture. His subject was "The Naval Battles in the Civil War," and he handled it entertainingly and instructively. The Major briefly described the various events, and related some notes of history that at least served to refresh the minds of his hearers. The lecture was satisfactory throughout, and a synopsis would not do it justice.

MOST PEOPLE

Know only a comparatively few things thoroughly—all else is more or less uncertain.

Take your own case. What do you know about CARPETS, for instance? Are you competent to detect poor materials, or imperfect weaving, or unreliable colorings, or old style patterns?

No.

Then will it not be wisdom on your part to make your purchases of CARPETS where all these points are taken care of in your interest, and where you are protected, not only from direct misrepresentation, but from the results of your own inexperience?

That seems plain enough.

Just two things we promise every customer. They are these:

That every salesman shall tell the whole truth about every piece of goods offered for sale; that anything which proves imperfect, through the appearance of any hidden defect subsequent to purchase, shall be made right.

The name of our firm stands behind these two guarantees.

Very likely you are thinking of purchasing one or more CARPETS shortly. If so, consider what we have said.

TOLEDO, OHIO, NOVEMBER 18, 1891.

While the gas holds out to burn let it go, Mr. Heston.

The speakership or bust, says Griffin, and some of his friends are afraid it will be bust.

Blaine's part of the McKinley law seems to work first rate. His part is the democratic part.

If Kaiser William really believes "the wish of the king is the supreme law of the people," he ought to come over this way and run for alderman in an off ward.

No new senatorial complications to report to-day. Both sides are apparently satisfied and the democrats are having lots of fun watching the cat and dog fight.

One thing may be said in advance for Gov. McKinley, he will not appoint a dirty-bodied and dirty-minded person as labor commissioner or to any other office. That seems to be settled.

James Boyle, the talented Columbus correspondent of the Commercial Gazette, is to be Gov. McKinley's private secretary. The selection will be an honor to the fraternity, and a credit to Gov. McKinley's administration.

Mr. Charles Evers, formerly auditor of Henry county, is welcomed to the newspaper field as editor of the Napoleon Demokrat, the German paper of that city. Mr. Evers is highly educated and is a writer of force and ability.

The Commercial-Gazette will soon discover that it has made another blunder. Reading John Sherman out of the senate is a very big job for the inconsequential boys of the C. G. to undertake. Dick Smith wouldn't be guilty of such foolishness.

Hon. W. I. Squire purposes displaying his great aggregation of clubs in the inauguration parade. Just think of our foremost citizen at the head of 658 companies. The sight will make the Governor's brass-mounted staff turn green with envy.

The espousal of Sherman's cause by Secretary Foster was surprising to the Foraker following, but it indicates that Mr. Foster recognizes the eternal unfitness of some things, one of them being Mr. Foraker's candidacy for the United States senate.

It was Gov. Foster who originally brought out Mr. Foraker for governor, but evidently he doesn't purpose allowing the pupil to get ahead of the master. There is another campaign coming and Mr. Foster does not despair of going to the senate himself.

Official election returns from all but five counties give the people's party 23,000 votes in Ohio. As every man who voted that party ticket is opposed to the high tariff policy of the republican party, it is plainely to be seen that McKinleyism is not in the majority in Ohio.

The defeated republican candidate for governor in New York says "when Grover Cleveland made his Cooper Union speech it cost the republicans 10,000 votes." That is the best tribute ever expressed of Mr. Cleveland's political strength and personal popularity in New York. No question about results with him as the candidate next year.

The general assembly of the Knights of Labor, which adjourned yesterday, is pronounced by Mr. Powderly the most profitable in the history of the order. This is gratifying intelligence, and it is also pleasing to know that the delegates were delighted with Toledo, its citizens and their hospitality.

There is a well-defined movement in New England to make Gov. Russell the democratic presidential candidate. His nomination would surely insure the electoral vote of Massachusetts, and Connecticut would also be in line. If Grover Cleveland declines to be the candidate, as many of his friend predict, Russell will be a formidable candidate in convention, and would be a promising one before the country.

Some rampant republican Sherman haters say, in the interest of Mr. Foraker, that Ohio never had a soldier senator; whereupon Major Bickham, of the Dayton Journal, says that Stanley Matthews was a gallant soldier, and Col. Mack, of the Sandusky Register, adds that Senator Brice was a good soldier and is a good G. A. R. member. Thus is the soldier record preserved without the exaltation of Mr. Foraker.

Now that Toledo has determined by vote to enter upon the project of establishing parks for the present and for future generations, the work should be thorough and systematic. A splendid beginning is made by the appointment of the commissioners by Gov. Campbell. Messrs. Potter, Schenck, Wade and Walbridge are men of broad minds on the subject and their judgment will undoubtedly be excellent in planning for the greatest pleasure and convenience to the greatest number.

Two hundred and twenty-three votes will elect the next president. See how this figures out: New York, 36; Indiana, 15; New Jersey, 10; The South, 159; total, 220. The other three will surely come from Michigan. Thus did the democratic Wolverines by one patriotic act, completely neutralize the republican scheme of admitting five territories to statehood for the sole purpose of perpetuating republican power indefinitely. No wonder the republicans do not like the Michigan plan. It was salvation oil for the democrats.

The present cold snap is very trying to the natural gas business, and the city plant is trying hard to find itself in good shape. Those citizens who advanced money for the service are patient and forbearing and are doing the best they can under the circumstances. But the best is none too good as the housewives with a baking of bread in the oven discovered to-day. Everybody hopes the pressure will increase and it may, as one of the trustees insists that the storage battery is being constantly replenished by nature. Perhaps Dame Nature will look well to Toledo in this emergency.

Secretary Foster delivered the annual address before the New York Chamber of Commerce last night, his subject being "To Maintain the Parity between Gold and Silver." Mr. Foster is opposed to the free coinage of silver, and approves the present law which requires the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver each month. He favors double coinage and urges international treaties that will establish uniform values. He is of opinion that the only thing in the way of such negotiations now is the continual agitation of the silver question in this country. If this be true it will be a long time before an agreement with other nations will be reached. The coinage question is very much too prominent in American politics to be soon dismissed. It must run its course.

PUBLIC ROADS.

An exchange tells of a farmer in a western state who lost several hundred dollars because the roads were so bad he couldn't haul his potatoes to market. What a blessed thing it would be for country and city alike if politics pure and simple, the office-holding, position-gaining, money-getting part of politics could be relegated to the background and the things that pertain to the material well-being of the state and its people could have first consideration. Because nature has been so prodigal of her favors we are satisfied with what comes to us without effort, and fail to get the possible best. This is the doctrine that is preached to the plain people by the high-tax theorists: "See how much better off you are than others, and how much worse off you might be." But the masses have a growing idea that they are entitled to their share of the best. And so in this same lax spirit of semi-satisfaction the questions of preservation of forests, measures to prevent their destruction by fire, and of building good roads are not considered worthy the people's thought and study or the legislators' attention. Realize what benefactions would follow if the money expended during a single campaign were applied to these very commonplace uses. We tax ourselves to death in the cities to build expensive pavements, and all the mud from the surrounding country is dragged in upon them. Every newspaper in every city growls about its "almost impassable" streets. To keep them clean under such conditions is to incur endless expense and the task is given up in despair.

Special consular reports on "Streets and Highways in foreign countries" are just sent out from Washington, and can be had by simply addressing a request to the secretary of state. They form a pamphlet of 580 pages, full of information and suggestion.

We deal with resources in the material world as men too often do with their own abilities; the most gifted fall behind in accomplishment, while the workers on much more meager capital forge ahead by dint of application and perseverance. Imagine our magnificent state, if you can, with such roads as are built in every part of France. Imagine the great and glorious west with its surpassingly beautiful scenery, its park-like forests traversed by such highways. When one sees what beauty spots are made of inferior little patches and places in the crowded countries of Europe, one reflects upon the possibilities in our own grand domain. Expensive, in the start, to be sure, but we are rich enough to do it if only the money was turned into the proper channels. Once accomplished, the returns begin to flow back.

Because France leads the countries of the old world which vie with one another in the perfection of their highways, it may be taken as an ensample of all. The building of these roads was begun by the Romans, and some of the finest existing thoroughfares to-day were built by the same hands that constructed the Appian way. The church of the Invalides, lifting its gilded dome above surrounding towers and spires, is not so grand a monument for Napoleon the first, as are the magnificent roads he caused to be built. And the Nephew carried his illustrious predecessor's plans to their splendid conclusions.

The roads of France are practically built and the work of the efficient engineers and road masters to-day is to keep these roads in perfect order. Ride through the most remote coast regions and the fine macadam roadway is the same. The peasant's cabin may have only the earth for a floor, but a smooth clean highway winds past his door. At intervals along the roadside are piles of crushed stone, sized and assorted, ready to repair the least depression or imperfection the moment it appears. These wagon roads reaching from the centers of population into the remote districts are the chief competitors of the railways, for the navigable inland water-ways are few and far between.

Commercial Agent Loomis, at St. Etienne, writes it down as his opinion, as it is the opinion of others, that this splendidly maintained system of roads has been of far greater value in the development of small landed estates, raising the value of lands and putting the peasant proprietors in easy communication with market places, than has the lines of railway. And Frenchmen themselves, students of the subject, believe the elasticity of the counry's finances, its swift and wonderful recuperation after disaster, is traceable directly and simply to its superb road system. Or, to use the consul's still more extravagant expression, "herein lies the key to the secret of the wonderful financial vitality and solid prosperity of the French nation."

The roadways are divided into three classes: first the national or state roads, second, department roads and third, township roads. The national roads, radiating from Paris, communicate with all the important cities and the departments of the country. These are under the jurisdiction of the department of bridges and roads, which is attached to the bureau of the minister of public works. The second and third class roads form a network over the country and are under the supervision of the prefects or mayors, and still under the watchful eye of the bureau. Besides these is the municipal road service. The country roads are the macadam and in the city the stone block pave or asphalt. When it is believed a new road is needed, the request is forwarded to headquarters with testimony to justify the application. Then civil engineers go over the region, examine the route, estimate the cost and make specifications, written out in detail for the benefit of the contractors, to which is added advice on the manner of construction. Lands are appraised and condemned, if owners refuse to sell and at reasonable price, and the work proceeds, still under the supervision of the trained engineers. Because the preliminary work and all the work, is so thoroughly, systematically and scientifically done, and once done kept in perfect repair, is the reason why century old roads are stronger and more durable than they were the day they were finished.

The cost of constructing a paved roadway is $2.35 per square meter (a meter is 39 inches and a fraction) and eight cents per square meter for keeping it repaired; five to ten cents for macadam. The average cost of building a road, per kilometer (six-tenths of a mile), is $6,600, more or less, varying as to distance from the basaltic rock or Brittany granite, or whatever material is used. And the fine, strong bridges, stone or suspension, are in keeping with the perfect roads, all over the country.

Consul Knowles, of Bordeaux, says the excellency of the roads of France is due to the simplicity of their construction upon scientific principles, the superior quality of the material used and the constant care given them. Consul Williams, at Havre, believes the thorough preliminary work of grading and draining is the first step in the improvement of road building in the United States. And the narrow tire which is not permitted in France is greatly responsible for our badly cut-up thoroughfares.

Consul Knowles calls these roads "immense garden highways amid a marvelous landscape of verdure and cultivation." Even the beggars of France have clean feet and sort of happy-go-lucky greetings for the traveler, and one can almost believe it is because of the always-clean highways. No weeds but the purple heather on the sand and rock hills are to be seen in France.

With such a system of roads leading to the business centers, there are no "back districts." The dreariness of the American farm home, few or many miles from town, is the muddy, rugged and rutty road that greets the vision either way and completes the feeling of isolation. And this phase of the question may well be considered along with the detriment to the farmer, who, like the one in the text, loses hundreds of dollars because he cannot get his produce to market. It is the "horrible roads" that help to drive these lonely women into insane asylums.

And this brings us back to the first proposition: with the lavish beauty of field, forest, stream, mountain and valley, which our glorious land possesses, think of these rich states with French highways over them. With forests preserved and an approximation to the old-world culture of lands, the United States would be like a dream of paradise for beauty. And delightful surroundings have a wholesome and refining influence on human nature, as well as a direct significance in the way of sanitation, and of contentment. An excellent campaign motto would be, less oratory, less brass band and more money for the building of good roads.

THE SCIENCE OF PENOLOGY.

The most stubborn opponents of good measures are those who will not investigate, and in no direction does this truism find apter illustration than in the intelligent treatment of the class that commits crime against society. By far the greater majority of people affect contempt for those who would better the conditions surrounding convicts, and they will not believe correction and reformation should in any form be allowed to displace punishment. Punishment causes fear, but that method of restricting crime makes a hundred reckless criminals where it brings back to the paths of rectitude one wayward man. Whenever a barrier is thrown in the way of influences intended to better the treatment of the law's criminals, the whole crowd of law Shylocks who would have the last ounce of punishment rejoice and take up the derisive cry against the science of penology.

Within a few days the supreme court of the State of Michigan has decided the indeterminate sentence law unconstitutional, whereat the Detroit News publishes the usual screed against prison reform. It is very clear that upon the point raised before the court the law is unconstitutional, because the organic law does not contemplate sentences except by a tribunal of justice; but, that the principle of the indeterminate sentence is wrong requires more than invective against penologists to prove. In those states where the punishment and correction of the criminals is given intelligent attention, entirely free from the bad influences of politics, the indeterminate sentence law unconstitutional, It is an incentive to good behavior and inclines many convicts who really do not belong to the crime class to paths which lead to good citizenship. It is a serious mistake to say that every man or woman against whom the bars of a penitentiary are turned are of the crime class. They have broken the penal laws else they would not be there, but many, indeed the larger percentage of the first sentence prisoners, are susceptible to reformatory influences, and every man reformed is a saving and a benefit to society. The advocacy of punishment alone is the barbaric plan, the application of the Mosaic law, "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." It is not civilizing, neither is it the Christian method.

In this connection it is noteworthy that from the Elmira Reformatory, the best institution of correction in the whole world, is just issued a "Paper on Penology," a little bound volume of 150 pages entirely filled with instructive lessons in the practical work of reforming the classes sentenced to imprisonment and punishment. This book is entirely the work of the inmates of the Reformatory, including the editorial part and the compilation. This valuable paper quotes from the annual report of the institution for 1890, which shows that 82 per cent. of the entire number of paroled prisoners since 1876, were reformed. The total number of reported reformations is 2,147. Only 412 finally proved themselves to belong to the real crime class, wholly beyond the pale of reformatory influences. Who dare say the result with the 2,147 was not worth the effort? Who can say society is not safer because of the betterment of the lives of this army of men who had offended the penal laws of New York? All praise to such institutions, and speed the day when every state shall follow New York's worthy example. The superintendent of the Elmira Reformatory, who has made a name for himself in the science of penology, and fame for his state, was formerly superintendent of the Detroit work house. Were the advice of the Detroit News heeded the workhouses would produce no Brockways, and the jails and penitentiaries would be filled with the ducking tubs and the cat-o'-nine-tails and the dungeons. Criminals might keep away from the worst of them from fear, but the vengeance of the crime class would be wreaked somewhere and upon somebody, and society would suffer. Penological study is not crankism. It is humanizing and civilizing and its good influences commence at the smallest institutions of care, as our children's homes, and follow all the gradations, through the workhouses, the jails, the reformatories and the penitentiaries. It is a great subject, worthy of private and public encouragement.

The Real Question.

In regard to opening the World's fair on Sunday it is urged that it is a question of the relative value of amusements and which class of entertainments shall be favored—whether it would be consistent to permit the saloons, museums and so on to run wide open on Sunday and close a counter-attraction in the shape of the most instructive, entertaining and elevating exhibitions in the whole world. —Kansas City Star.

WRECKS ON THE LAKES.

The Hattie Estelle Strikes at Manistee.

The Captain Dies Lashed to the Rigging.

Life Savers at Cleveland Rescue the Little Schooner Racine and Her Crew—The Franz Sigel Ashore.

Manistee, Mich., Nov. 18.—The schooner Hattie A. Estelle, from Chicago to Buffalo, with a cargo of wheat, while trying to run into the harbor here struck the bar just outside the piers.

The crew took to the rigging and four were rescued by the life saving crew. The cook and one sailor were drowned.

The captain is still lashed to the rigging supposed to be dead.

The Racine Rescued.

Cleveland, Nov. 18.—A vessel in distress was discovered by the lookout at the life saving station at about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and immediate preparations were made to attempt a rescue. The vessel, which was a two-masted schooner, had lost all her sails and was rolling at anchor in the trough of the sea, the waves sweeping her decks.

Captain Goodwin obtained the use of the tug Alva B. and with his crew boarded the tug and steamed out to the wreck. The schooner was found to be at anchor, but almost at the mercy of the waves, when the life saving crew arrived, and as it was seen that to allow the little vessel to remain where she was meant her total destruction, immediate preparations to tow her into harbor were made.

The crew of the schooner, which was discovered to be the Racine, of Detroit, were assisted in their work by the life savers and the vessel was soon on her way to the harbor.

She had a cargo of ties from Hammond's Bay, on Lake Huron, and had a good voyage until the storm came upon her, when she lost a large part of her deck load.

In the fog and darkness the compass had to be depended upon for the reckoning and in this way the crew were misled. When they found that they had gone past the breakwater the course of the vessel was changed and the gale blew out the mainsail and nearly all the other sails. Then the schooner anchored and hoisted signals.

Besides the loss of practically her entire canvas the heavy seas broke in her bulwarks and kept the boat flooded until not more than fifty ties were left on her deck and the water got into her hold, filling her to such an extent that had she had a less bouyant cargo she would have foundered. The Racine is an old vessel, having been built in Cleveland in 1844. She is owned by H. E. Prouty, of Detroit.

Schooner Sigel Ashore.

Manistee, Mich., Nov. 18.—The schooner General Franz Sigel, from Cleveland, loaded with coal for this port, went ashore north of Manistee piers. Two men are reported drowned. The life saving crew is now trying to get to the wreck. The northwester which prevails is the worst of the season. The Sigel is owned by C. E. Chilson, of Lorain, is valued at $5,000, and is probably insured.

Blaine's Boom Sized by Sherman.

Senator Sherman sententiously remarks: "I believe that the Blaine movement has its force rather in hatred of Harrison than in true, honest support of Blaine." This is apparently the size of the business, from the fact that some of the oldest haters of Blaine are in the movement.—Philadelphia Record.

The Grant Monument.

The report of the Grant Monument association that it has $154,000, enough to build the foundation, and that when it gets $500,000 more it will build the monument, reminds one of the boy who would have ten rabbits when he caught the one he was after and nine more.—Indianapolis News.

Ohio's Sea Serpent Story.

The report that Senator-elect Brice of Ohio is to be deprived of his seat, and a republican elected in his place, comes to the surface about as regularly as the sea serpent, and there is just as much real substance to it as there is to that famous bogy of the vasty deep.—Boston Herald.

Everybody Satisfied.

The Chicago people say they will not go into a scramble for the national conventions. It is quite certain that the conventions will not scramble to get to Chicago.—Washington Post.

CELEBRATED PEOPLE.

Mme. Anne Marie Mazzini, Milan, Italy, has been announced as a candidate for parliament by her party.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward is writing a new book. It will be called "David Grieve," and will be about as long as "Robert Elsmere."

A directory of the city of Portland, Me., for the year 1858 has been brought to light, and in it appears this line: "Blaine, J. G., editor Advertiser, boards United States hotel."

Tolstoi is attracting much attention in Parisian society, but his "lean-and-hungry-Cassius"-like look does not give people a very cheering ideal of his peculiar principles.

The duke of Fife is selling off large sections of his Banffshire property, and the tenants are not weeping because they are losing their old landlord.

Gabrielle Greeley Clendennin, the great editor's only surviving daughter, is a woman of about 30 years, of medium height, with brown hair and black eyes.

Herr Krupp, the great German ironmaster, has a lot of heavy cannon to ship to Spain, and he has ordered a steamer built for their transport.

Senator Sherman's opinion on our South American complications ought to carry a great deal of weight with its He has long been known as one of our chilliest North American statesmen.

Mrs. Mary Anderson-Navarro is not writing a book, as has been reported. Her stepfather, Dr. Hamilton Griffin, says that she was offered $10,000 not long ago for a 30-column love story, but he had no idea she would accept it.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland and little Ruth are rusticating at Buzzard's Bay. It was the only way to shut off Grover from the paternal desire to see if all the presentation spoons would fit the rosebud mouth of the little stranger.

The most curious character on the island of Borneo is the white sultan or rajah of Sarawak. He is an Englishman, Sir Charles Brooke, and the United States are the only nation that recognizes his sovereignty. He rules over a part of Borneo as large as Ireland, and his subjects pay tribute to him in rice.

The great Napoleon smoked tobacco but once, and then at the instance of the Persian embassador, who presented him with a magnificent oriental pipe. The experiment upset the emperor's stomach, and he never repeated it, though later in life he became a devotee of the snuff-box.

William Allen Butler, the author of "Nothing to Wear," and senior of the law firm to which belong Messrs. Stillman and Hubbard, who are the trustees in the Hopkins-Searles will controversy, is supposed by several New England journals to be a son of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler. He is the son of the Benjamin F. Butler who, 65 years ago, was attorney general of New York.

That the duce of spades has been christened Spielbusch.

That Put-in-Bay is to have a regular boom next summer.

That Toledo yachts quit sailing when purchased by other cities.

That popcorn and molasses candy is almost ripe enough to pick.

That the Veteran Cadets are going to have lots of sport this winter.

That the snow didn't last long enough for the poet to get in his work.

That T. F. Shipherd can give all the young bloods points in hunting.

That many people think that Mrs. Lehenay is being unjustly treated.

That arrangements are being made to burn oil at the Consolidated power house.

That the street banjo player has bottled up his plunk-plunk until next summer.

That if Curtis and Bills construct a new Fanchon she will be a comer in her class.

That Canton avenue has become a lively thoroughfare since the street improvement.

That a suspension bridge is badly needed over the Union-Sherman street intersection.

That Joe Mulhattan isn't in it with the prognosticators on the Ohio senatorial situation.

That Griffin can never get down on the same side of the fence with Flickinger and Heller.

That the disappearance of change from the Benedict's pocket denotes the near approach of Christmas.

That Foraker feels ill whenever he hears of the death of any other of the nation's great statesmen.

That the thrifty young man who sawed wood during the summer months is now sweeping up the saw dust.

That the moon got full and covered her face with a cloud of mist which did not hide her deep red blush.

That last year's overcoat don't look half as bad as you thought it did when you put it away last spring.

That the ghost of hate still stalks abroad in the city, and that the late green turtle soup is still unpaid for.

That Cherry street's public hydrant should be moved farther from the side walk so that pedestrians can pass without the aid of a ferry boat.

That the bold mariner's face gleams with joy when he contemplates that the watery wastes are soon to be encircled by the arms of Father Winter.

That the telegraph company who took up the merchants hitching posts and placed their own poles in the same place, on Summit street, is full of unalloyed "cheek."

Five hundred iron-clads in Chilian waters would not make Pat Egan or Pat Egan's policy one whit more respectable than they are now.—St. Louis Republic.

WANTED—ACTORS.

A Quick Response to the Advertisement of the Cadets.

The attractive powers of the Cadet entertainment combined with the press, were shown to good advantage at Memorial hall last night. Yesterday the Cadets advertised their entertainment for the evening and announced the title of the farce, "Wanted—Actors."

About 10 o'clock last night the men at the door were astonished by two "dead tough mugs," who showed up at the door, the taller of whom announced: "We's actors, d'ye see? an' we wants a job. Where's de cove dat's running dis show? I'm a champion club swinger an' me pard kin do a song and dance."

The big fellow had a black eye, and they were typical St. Clair street variety men, and when they were informed that their services were not needed they were very much displeased.

"What does yees want to advertise for actors fer when yer don't know good people?" sarcastically remarked the previous spokesman, and then they wandered out again into the cold.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

A BALLAD OF THE STREET.

Among the motley throng
 That tramped the city street,
A comely man and strong
 Wended with eager feet.

He held his head erect.
 And, as he hastened by,
His mien begot respect
 In every glancing eye.

His cheeks, all brown and red,
 Of health and vigor told:
His firm and nervous tread.
 That he was keen and bold.

While thus he hastened on,
 Darkness about him fell
And suddenly was gone.
 A transient fainting spell.

Then on the pave he saw
 A stark and man-shaped Thing,
Round which in silent awe
 The people formed a ring.

He saw the doctor kneel
 Beside it on his knees,
And in his bosom feel;
 "Stone dead. 'Twas heart disease."

And while the people pressed
 All curious round the spot
He wondered with the rest
 And said: "I knew him not."

He saw as in a dream,
 The woman of his heart
Pushing, with sudden scream,
 The circling throng apart.

She kissed the sightless eyes,
 She begged the lips to speak,
He heard her piercing cries,
 Heartrending, shriek on shriek.

And in that wild despair
 The truth at last he read:
His corpse was lying there,
 Himself had fallen dead.

THE CARTRIDGE BOX

Opened in Great Shape Last Night

By the Toledo Cadets—A Great Show—Committes in Charge—A Little of Everything on the Program.

The third annual entertainment of the Toledo Cadets, appropriately called a "Cartridge Box," opened at Memorial hall last evening. Owing to the inclement weather, the attendance was not large, but those present were well paid for facing the biting blasts by a jolly evening, with the Cadets as hosts, and they are always good entertainers.

Military hall had been handsomely decorated. At one end a large temporary stage was erected, and here was presented for the first time in Toledo the roaring farce, entitled, "Wanted—Actors," which on the programs is labeled as "an original conglomeration of nonsensicalities in one act, written especially for this occasion."

Scene—Express office and railway station, Jonahville, 108 miles from nowhere.

Time—To-day, to-morrow, yesterday, last week, any time, sometime this winter.

The stage was appropriately set as a country railway station, hotel office, express office and postoffice, all in charge of Pat O'Rourke, and it is here that a company of actors is stranded. Pat thinks he is an actor, too, and when he advertises for actors to form his company the stranded troupe apply for an engagement and show Pat what they can do.

This plot, which is no plot at all, gives plenty of range and opportunity for the introduction of numerous specialities that comprise the merits of the entertainment, and everything goes with a rush.

The cast was entirely composed of well-known local people, as stated in the Bee, and their efforts were well appreciated by the audience, as evidenced by the hearty and frequent applause.

Little Goldie Burbank gave a pretty song and dance; several songs from Evans and Gibsone received hearty encores; Burgert, Pixley and O'Brien made a hit in "The Little Sign is still above the Door," and were obliged to respond again and again; several excellent selections were rendered by a banjo club composed of Messrs. Harry Cummings, Rob Cummings, Maynard Kinney, L. Wheeler, Frank Galloway, and Frank Baumgardner; a solo by Charles O'Brien was very taking, and the audience was delighted with the artistic skirt dance by Gus Leibius.

The whole closed with a grand medley, participated in by the whole company.

This was immediately followed by the famous piano drill by a squad of 12 Cadets, in which the entire manual of arms is carried out without any other commands than the notes of the piano, and their work last night is said to have been the best drill they have ever put up.

This program was carried out with a vim and smoothness that would have been creditable to professionals, and every number was good. The farce was under the management of D. M. Caughling, L. D. Saunders, musical director, and H. J. Middaugh, master of properties.

At the close of the drill the audience passed down stairs to the lower floor, where a fancy fair was held, and at which a large number of articles, both useful and beautiful, are being disposed of. The annex was in charge of the ladies, and here refreshments were served.

As soon as the floor of the large hall was cleared of chairs, dancing began and was kept up until midnight to strains of delightful music from Leon's orchestra.

The entertainment will be repeated tonight, and on Thursday night the dancing will continue until two o'clock.

The cadets feel much elated over their first night, and especially wish to return thanks to all who have so kindly assisted them, both those who took part in the entertainment, and those who donated articles for the fair.

The cadets were divided into a number of committees, and their good work was evidenced in the smooth workings of each department. Captain McMaken was everywhere and kept an eye on affairs in general, while Lieutenant Watters made an able second.

The committees were composed as follows:

Arrangements—Capt. W. V. McMaken, Lieutenant T. T. Watters, Lieut. F. I. Howells, Sergt. A. W. S. Irvine, Corp. Charles O'Brien, Privates W. T. Phillips and Walter Ely.

Entertainment—Corporals O'Brien and Pixley, Sergeants Goodall and Middaugh, Privates Peckham and Bromley, and Col. Pluck.

Fair Committee—Lieut. T. T. Watters, Sergeants Irvine, Goodall, Welbon, Middaugh, Privates Schmidt, Peckham, Phillips, Ely, Engfer, Walsh.

Soliciting Committee—Lieut. Watters, Sergeants Welbon and Middaugh, Corporals Raymer and Wylie, Privates Ely, Engfer, Messenger, Peckham, Phillips, Schmidt, Scott, Trowbridge and Col. Pluck.

Committee in charge of Cigars—Corporal L. G. Raymer.

Refreshment Committee—Lieut. F. I. Howells, Sergeant Quine, Corporals Hoag, Pixley, O'Brien, Privates Adams, Scott, Souder, Trowbridge and Myers. These gentlemen were ably assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. W. V. McMaken, Mrs. Lieut. T. T. Watters, Mrs. F. I. Howells, Mrs. A. W. S. Irvine, Mrs. F. K. Quine, Mrs. Harry Goodall, Mrs. Eugene Parsons, Mrs. H. J. Middaugh, Mrs. Will Welbon, Mrs. S. G. Souder, Mrs. F. I. Lindsay, the Misses Tipple, Misses Warn, Misses Haigh, Misses Phillips, Misses Peckham, Miss Fisk, Miss Goldsmith, Miss Colburn, Miss Gruber, Miss Corey, Miss Schlingman, Miss Machen, Miss Evert, and Miss Harbaur.

Committee in charge of hall and doors—Captain W. V. McMaken, Corporals Parsons, Mullen, Wylie, Privates Bradshaw, Brailey, Dickinson, Raymer, Ehni, Fontaine, Harroun, Hattendorf, Lindsay, Rodgers, Sinclair, Newton.

Coatroom Committee—Corporals Geleerd, Hohly, Privates Young, Lamb, and Dyer.

Finance Committee—Lieut. T. T. Watters, Privates Messenger and Walsh.

The floor committee in charge of the dancing was composed of Messrs. Clifford Lamb, R. S. Holbrook, Bob West, Ed. Whitaker, George S. Mills, Jay Secor, Hubbard Woodbury, E. S. Norton, C. S. Stowe, Frank Cheney and Rob Whittlesy.

The veteran cadet corps acted as a reception committee and made everybody welcome.

FOR HOME MISSIONS.

Annual Convention at the Third Street M. E. Church This Afternoon.

The annual convention of the Woman's Home Missionary society of this district opened its sessions this afternoon at the Third Street M. E. church, and will continue through to-morrow. Devotional exercises were led at the opening by Mrs. S. L. Roberts, and addresses of welcome were next made by Miss Mattie Barlow and Pastor Roberts, which were responded to by Mrs. T. N. Barkdull, of Port Clinton. This evening a platform meeting will be held, at which addresses are expected from pastors of the various charges in the city.

To-morrow's program follows:

Morning—Devotional exercises, Mrs. G. H. Priddy, of Auburndale; reading of minutes; introduction of delegates; appointment of committees; Ritter Home work; young ladies' work, Miss Edith Philips; Indian work, paper, Mrs. H. Watkins, of Bowling Green.

Afternoon—Devotional, Mrs. R. Heller, Port Clinton; election of officers; emigrant work, Mrs. Gozzard, of Tinny; Mormon work, paper, Mrs. Munson; talk, mite boxes, Mrs. Rev. W. H. Scoles, Bowling Green; report Juvenile band and Mother's jewels, Edith Philips; report of committees; reports from district auxiliaries.

How to save money is a problem that interests everybody. One way to do it is to invigorate the system with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Being a highly concentrated blood medicine, it is the most powerful and economical. It is sold for a dollar a bottle, but worth five.

FIRE-WATER WAS HANDY,

And the Apache Soldiers Took Plenty of It.

A Bloody War Between the White and Indian Soldiers Which Might Have Been More Serious.

Prescott, Ariz., Nov. 18.—The troops stationed at Whipple barracks, among whom is one company of Apache Indians, were paid off two days ago. The fact of the Indians being clothed in a soldier's uniform has enabled them to get all the whisky they want to drink, and the result has been that during the past two nights there have been numerous fights.

At one time it seemed as if serious trouble would occur, as the Indians broke for their arms and were only prevented with difficulty from obtaining them.

During the fight one white soldier had a leg broken and several Apache soldiers were more or less hurt. Seven of the latter are in the guard house and nearly as many more Apaches and white soldiers are in the hospital.

THE MOT[illegible]TARD.
A remedy that will save life and not take long to do it. Dr. Hoxsie's Certain Croup Cure, for croup and diphtheria, is the one. 50 cents.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

Next Meeting To Be Held in Baltimore—Foreign Appropriations.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 18.—The Methodist general missionary committee decided to increase the general appropriation for domestic purposes to an even half million dollars.

Baltimore was the place selected for the next annual meeting, with the intimation that Chicago was the next on the list.

The old dispute as to whether the missions in Bulgaria should be maintained, came up again and was decided in the affirmative, $20,000 being voted for them. The other appropriations made are: Africa, $5,400; South America, $50,545; China, $108,972; Germany, $30,600; Switzerland, $9,500; Scandanavia, $48,420; India, $121,500; Malaysia, $9,000; Italy, $34,334; Japan, $61,000; Korea, $17,562.

The members of the committee were given a grand banquet at Music hall by the Methodists of Cleveland in the evening. Addresses were made by Gen. W. H. Gibson, Bishop Foss, Bishop Newman, Rev. Dr. J. H. Buckley, Mrs. Jane Bancroft Robinson of Detroit; Bishop Warren, Rev. Dr. A. B. Leonard and Bishop Fowler.

Clifton Springs, Battle Creek and Hot Springs Sanitariums, all famous health resorts, are using Garfield Tea in their treatment of constipation and female weaknesses.

WATER FAMINE IN NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 18.—The water famine still continues, and the prospects for relief are not promising. The storm which, for the past 36 hours prior to 6 o'clock last night, has been raging along the east coast of the Atlantic, gave but very light rainfall.

ITS EXCELLENT QUALITIES
Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

AFTER THE CONVENTION.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—People here are sanguine of securing the national republican convention. A delegation of prominent citizens will leave on a special train to aid the boomers already in Washington.

For a disorderly liver try Beecham's Pills.

LUTHERAN SYNOD.

An Interesting Session Being Held at Upper Sandusky.

Upper Sandusky, O., Nov. 18.—The western synod of the English Lutheran church is holding an interesting conference in this city. The attendance is fair and the discussions entertaining. Rev. A. C. Miller, Ph. D., of Lima, delivered an able address on "The Christain's Race."

Officers for the ensuing year were elected, with the following result: Rev. J. M. Dustman, Upper Sandusky, president; Rev. M. L. Exline, Arcadia, secretary, and J. A. Himes, Leipsic, treasurer.

Revs. H. C. Stuckinberg of Findlay and J. W. Ryder of Bellefontaine discussed the question of "Who are proper subjects for admission into the church?" Rev. W. H. Singley, D. D., delivered an address on "Denominational Honesty" and Rev. S. S. Adams and O. H. Bauslin, D. D., discussed the following subjects respectively: "The Lutheran View of Conversion," and "Joys of the Ministry."

At this morning's session of the English Lutheran conference, Bloomdale was decided on as the next meeting place, the date of which will be set later.

Rev. W. H. Singley discussed the subject of "The friend of theological thought at the present day," occupying the rest of the morning.

Revs. S. T. A. Himes and D. H. Bauslin, D. D., are down for discussions this afternoon.

FOSTORIA MASONS.

Fostoria, Nov. 18.—Fostoria lodge, F. and A. M., has elected the following officers:

A ROARING FARCE.

Dyrenforth's Experiments in Making Rain.

His Balloons Got Away and the Cowboys

Captured Them With Lassos Without Trouble.

Much Money Wasted and to No Avail.

A Government Experiment in Order to Boom Land Which Senator Farwell Secured for His Celebrated Texas Court House Contract.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 18.—The failure of the rain-producing experiments of Dyrenforth is the subject of an article nearly three columns in length, prepared by W. K. Curtis, M. D., for the St. Louis Republic.

Dr. Curtis writes from the Llano Estacado ranch in Texas, where the experments took place. He writes as a spectator and investigator, and hence his declaration that the whole was a miserable farce that has resulted in naught of benefit is, seemingly, worthy of credence.

The tests were made at the Chicago or "C" ranch, and Dr. Curtis was on the ground. The ranch is owned by the dressed beef big-four combine. Dr. Curtis says:

"Both United States Senator Farwell of Illinois, who engineered the bill through Czar Reed's late and largely lamented congress, making the appropriation of $9,000 which Gen. Dyrenforth fooled away in his great spectacular fizzle, and Mr. Morris are largely interested in land that would be greatly enhanced in value if the experiment had been successful. Senator Farwell was a member of the 'Capitol syndicate' that built the state house in Austin, and received in payment from the state 3,000,000 acres of land in a body. This land, known as the 'syndicate' ranch, is about 100 miles from the 'C.'

"Gen. Dyrenforth in his attempted practical demonstration of it, proved himself an inexcusable bungler, and his botchwork was a burlesque on science and common sense."

Dr. Curtis then describes at length ahw the rain-making party reached the ranch August 6 last, with a vast amount of material and paraphernalia, in loading balloons which they were to ascend cend and telephone to earth where the bombs should be exploded.

"The facts are," he says, "that neither the aeronaut nor anybody else made a balloon ascension while on the plains. The real experiment, that of making heavy explosions in the upper air, was never performed, as only five balloons were inflated and sent up during the entire stay, and of these only two exploded, the others floated off, 'unbusted,' one being found several miles south of Midland, and another was seen traveling toward Washington City.

"Only a few kites, with small amounts of dynamite and rack-a-rock powder, were sent up. Explosions were made on the ground, both at regular and extremely irregular intervals, and this was mostly done by the cowboys.

"The first rain that fell after their arrival was on the 13th, before they made any experiment. Yet the Dyrenforth dispatches reported it as a heavy rain at the ranch in response to the party's efforts They did not begin to prepare the material for making the gas until the 14th and at that date the balloons were not even unpacked.

"The fact is, the winds had been in the southeast for some time, which is a sure indication of rain, and there were good local rains through this section at that time."

The doctor quotes despatches sent to certain eastern papers, telling of the success of the experiments, and says:

"This success was scored three days before they began to manufacture the gas and five days before the first balloon was exploded.

"Another rain, a light one, was no more due to the party's efforts than it was to the cannonading in Chili. The clouds were overhead and the rain was to fall when they made their ground explosions. This rain was hardly enough to wet one's clothes; the rain clouds were low down, and all the rainmakers did was to fire about 20 shots on the grounds, two pounds of giant powder being used at each shot."

The doctor discusses at some length the climatology of Texas, showing that there usually is a rainy season from about the middle of August until the last of September and that this season was taken advantage of by the Dyrenforth party. They were taken by surprise when rain came before their paraphernalia were unpacked, but they did not hesitate to claim credit for bringing the rain. He says:

"The main feature of the experiment, that of making frequent and terrific explosions in the upper air, which was the theory that they came here to demonstrate and which Mr. Willetts of the agricultural department refers to in his published reports as 'producing rain by concusssion above the earth's surface,' was never performed, as only two balloons were exploded, and these at haphazard, for the reason that no balloon ascension was made, and hence they knew nothing of the condition of the upper stratum of air. Moreover these two balloons could not have been filled properly as the explosion was not 'terrific' in any sense of the word. The same amounts of dynamite attached to half a dozen different kites could have had no possible effect. Virtually they made no experiment except the ground explosions and these, as a rule, were made at times when there were rain clouds overhead."

Dr. Curtis then details some of the amusing blunders of the scientists.

One of these was that they had 100 oxygen cannisters, calling for 200 heads, one for each end, but they had only 50 heads. This prevented balloon ascensions.

Then their kites would not fly and they were sorely puzzled, for Prof. Meyer made measurement and said that the kites were geometrically correct and must fly. After repeated efforts and when they were about to abandon the kites, a cowboy, who had not forgotten his boyhood days, called attention to the fact that there were no tails on the kites.

The first balloon they tried to send up took fire, and everybody was frightened until a cowboy lassooed it and dragged it into a stock water pond. Two days later another little balloon was sent up. This was on Sunday. It exploded at a distance of about one mile and a half. That night local rains fell in several places, but none at or near the ranch.

It is due to Jupiter Pluvius to say that he had evidently been prepared to rain for several days. Clouds came up each evening from the northwest, as is usual at that time of the year. On Thursday heavy dark clouds appeared. The dynamite was put in position and several charges exploded; the clouds parted and the rain passed by and fell west of the Pecos, nearly 100 miles from the ranch. Specials were sent out from Gen. Dyrenforth's desk and published in the daily papers stating that four or five explosions were made in one day in the presence of 50 witnesses, and that on each occasion copious showers fell in from 10 to 40 seconds."

The writer had the particulars from Prof. Rosell as follows: "A dark cloud —s passing over and the opportunity was seized to explode a charge of giant powder. A few drops of rain fell. Another small dark cloud passed over and dropped a slight sprinkle. Another charge was fired directly under it, and those present were of the opinion that the drops fell a little thicker after than before the explosion. This is the truth regarding that experiment."

Up to the 22d, when the writer left, there had been so little apparent correspondence between promise and performance, so manifest an ignorance of the practical operation of the appliances, so plain a tendency of each member of the party to either not act at all, or to act upon his own hook altogether; so patent a lack of discipline and system in work that interested parties who visited the ranch in large numbers went away filled with what is politely called fatigue. There was nothing done afterward except to make ground explosions, and the result was nil.

Dr. Curtis quotes a number of dispatches sent to newspapers recounting the success of the experiments, and recites facts and dates, showing the statements to be false, and closes thus:

"The false reports sent out have been referred to as 'Dyrenforth dispatches,' because they were sent out by a member of the party, and if Gen. Dyrenforth didn't know their contents before they were sent, he did afterward, when he read the papers brought to the ranch, and he didn't then and has not yet corrected them. While getting a check cashed from a newspaper in the Midland bank, the correspondent remarked boastingly that 'It was hard to keep the run of his checks, as he was correspondent of only 23 newspapers.' From this one can have an idea of the number of fakes that have been sent broadcast over the land.

"The people of this section were prepared to give the rainmakers credit for anything they might have done, but they were not 'prepared' to indorse the lying statements sent out by the Dyrenforth party representing this country as a second Sahara, which was done in order to make any rain that might fall during their stay appear all the more miraculous, or to give them any credit for bringing much needed moisture when they didn't do it."

FOSTER ON FINANCES.

The Secretary of the United States Treasury

Talks to the Merchants of New York City.

A Big Banquet at Delmonico's Closed with a Discussion of the Government's Policy in the Matter of Money.

New York, Nov. 18.—Two hundred and seventy-two gentlemen attended the banquet of the board of trade last night, and at its close Secretary Foster spoke as follows:

"To maintain parity between gold and silver is the first policy of the government because we all recognize its supreme importance. When we come to the question of what policy is the best to pursue to maintain this desired condition, serious differences of opinion arise."

Then he continued substantially as follows:

"If any body of men in the world ought to be practical in their undertakings it is the chamber of commerce in New York. They should be able to distinguish the practical things that can be accomplished from the impossible ideal which they would prefer. Prior to 1880 we had many sound-thinking people who believed that our financial structure should be based on gold alone.

"It is now agreed on all sides that gold alone furnishes too narrow a basis upon which to conduct the money affairs of the world. Fifteen years ago people of the east who were supposed to understand the question of finance indulged in prophesy as to the evil that would follow such a large coinage of silver dollars.

"Great financiers of the country—the chamber of commerce of New York and the associated banks—held that the parity could not be maintained, even with the smallest coin. Notwithstanding doleful predictions we have coined over 400 millions at gold value and paid for it by the issue of about 70 millions of new treasury notes. And yet the parity is maintained.

"Is there now living any man whom we would have regarded as good authority on the subject, but who would have predicted that under such conditions the parity of the two metals would be preserved? So now, men whose intelligence and patriotism cannot be questioned and whose purposes are the most exalted are moved to indulge in gloomy forebodings over the present outlook and propose to repeal the act of July 14, 1890, (the present law authorizing the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver per month to be paid in new treasury notes), hoping thereby to preserve this parity of gold and silver. It is not my purpose to dispute this position, nor do I propose to make myself the special advocate of the law, as it stands. I do not propose to indulge in a prophecy as to what is to happen."

Mr. Foster told then of an elaborate speech he prepared in 1878 upon silver and gold but did not deliver in the house because of the enlarged views on finishing of the speech on the day fixed for its delivery. Then he added: "If the New York Times could have that speech to comment upon I think I would have to resign my office. This reference to myself is, perhaps, out of place in the discussion of a very serious subject but I mention it merely to call to mind the fact that many other gentlemen have not been as prudent as I have.

"There is one very important factor in dealing with this question which has not perhaps, been wholly overlooked but which has not been appreciated to any such extent as it deserves. That enormous power given by congress to those in authority to deal with this question backed by the almost incalculable resources of the greatest country on earth.

"The question to consider now is what policy that is attainable, (remembering all the time that the ideal is impossible) will result in the least strain upon our resources and will require the least resort to the exercise of the extraordinary powers conferred upon those in autnority to do what the law commands, viz.: To maintain the parity of gold and silver.

"In my opinion, with all of our power we could not maintain the parity of the two metals if the policy of the free coinage of silver prevailed.

"I am freely of the opinion that the parity of the two metals can be maintained under the present policy. We produce in this country about 30,000,000 of gold annually. The present indications are that the balance of trade with foreign nations for the next two years and for a longer period, if the present tariff laws are maintained, will require gold shipments to us to pay balance in our favor. Under the present policy we buy 4,500,000 ounces of silver per month, paying for this purchase its value in new treasury notes. Under such conditions the work of maintaining the parity will require extraordinary exercise of power or be a strain upon the resources of the country. If, however, the balance of the trade should turn against us to any great extent which seems to me quite improbable, except in the event of extraordinary contingencies abroad, the strain would come, but even then my faith in our resources is such as to compel me to believe that we would weather the storm and preserve the parity.

"The shipment of more than $70,000,000 of our gold to Europe without embarrassment to us is only an illustration of the marvelous financial strength of this country. Under free coinage silver would take the place of gold in settling balances. If the price of silver were advanced from $1 to $1.29 per ounce, all of this silver for sale in the world would be attracted to this country. To maintain the parity under such conditions would be a task requiring more than our immense resources and the exercise of unusual power to the last degree could supply. But with 4,500,000 ounces of silver only per month purchased at its gold value, the task would be easy. In my opinion, gentlemen, the practical question for you to consider is which of these two policies will you prefer? I know you have expressed a desire for the repeal of the present law, and I understand you do not propose a substitute of any kind. In other words, if you can have your way, you propose to permit silver to take care of itself. I have not given much thought to this phase of the subject, for the reason that I do not believe congress will indorse your views. But I think I can see clearly that if the government goes out of the market the price will decline; perhaps it will be a large decline, in which case it seems to me the task of maintaining the parity will be embarrassing and difficult.

Believing that the good sense of the business world must in the near future be brought into harmony with us in the proposition that gold alone is too narrow a base upon which to build the world's financial structure, I have much hope that the best judgment of all concerned will agree to a better and more extensive use of silver to be followed by international agreements by which the parity of the two metals upon an accepted ratio may be maintained. I feel quite safe in saying that one of the hindrances to an early agreement in the direction I have indicated is the belief in Europe that free coinage is to be the policy of the country. If this is to be our policy, they know that their silver will come to us and that our gold will go to them. Is it not the part of wisdom for us to refrain from doing anything that will impair our ability to preserve the parity?

"Convince Europe that we will not permit ourselves to fall in this respect, and an obstacle to the agreement so much desired is removed.

"In what I have said, I express the opinion of myself only; whether they are of any value or not is for you and the country to judge. The position I occupy requires me for the time being to give my best thought and attention to this and kindred subjects. I am trying to consider not the ideal but the practical only."

WHERE GOLD IS KEPT ON SHIPBOARD.

In these days of heavy gold shipments the specie room on the steamship is a very important institution. It is located in an out-of-the-way place amidships, under the saloon.

Few of the passengers know of its existence, or of the valuable treasure that is carried across the ocean with them. The room varies slightly on different ships but is usually about 16 feet long, by 10 feet wide and 8 feet high. It is constructed of steel plates one-quarter of an inch thick, and strongly riveted together. The floor, the ceiling and the walls are all of steel plates. There is a heavy door, also made of steel. It is provided with two English "Chub" locks, a variety of combination lock that is said to be burglar proof.

The gold and silver is usually in bars, but occasionally a quantity of coin in bags is shipped. This was the case when the heavy shipments of gold were made last spring. The Majestic is credited with carrying the largest quantity, her strong box having $4,500,000 intrusted to it for safe keeping.—Scribner's Magazine.

ROCKED IN THE CRADLE OF THE DEEP

Sounds nice, don't it? But O, how fast and furious are the rockings in rough weather! The intestinal warfare begotten in your vitals by the sea's commotion beggars description. What's the proper caper under these circumstances? Take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing comparable to it for remedying sea sickness or the kindred naseau from which many delicate land travelers suffer. Dyspepsia, cramps, constipation and biliousness also are invariably and promptly remedied by the Bitters. Exposure in rough weather is often productive of hurtful consequences, which may, however, be averted by the timely use of the Bitters, which diffuses an agreeable warmth through the system, and promotes an active circulation of the blood in the extremities when benumbed and chilled. Malaria, kidney trouble, rheumatism and debility are remedied by the Bitters.

Stamped out—blood-poisons of every name and nature, by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's a medicine that starts from the beginning. It rouses every organ into healthy action, purifies and enriches the blood, and through it cleanses and renews the whole system. All Blood, Skin, and Scalp Diseases, from a common blotch or eruption to the worst Scrofula, are cured by it. For Tetter, Salt-rheum, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands, Tumors, and Swellings, it's an unequaled remedy.

Don't think it's like the sarsaparillas. They claim to be good for the blood in March, April, and May. "Golden Medical Discovery" works equally well at all seasons. And it not only claims to do good—it guarantees it. If it dosen't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

You pay only for the good you get. Can you ask more?

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtile maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

DOCTORS FRANCE AND OTTMAN,

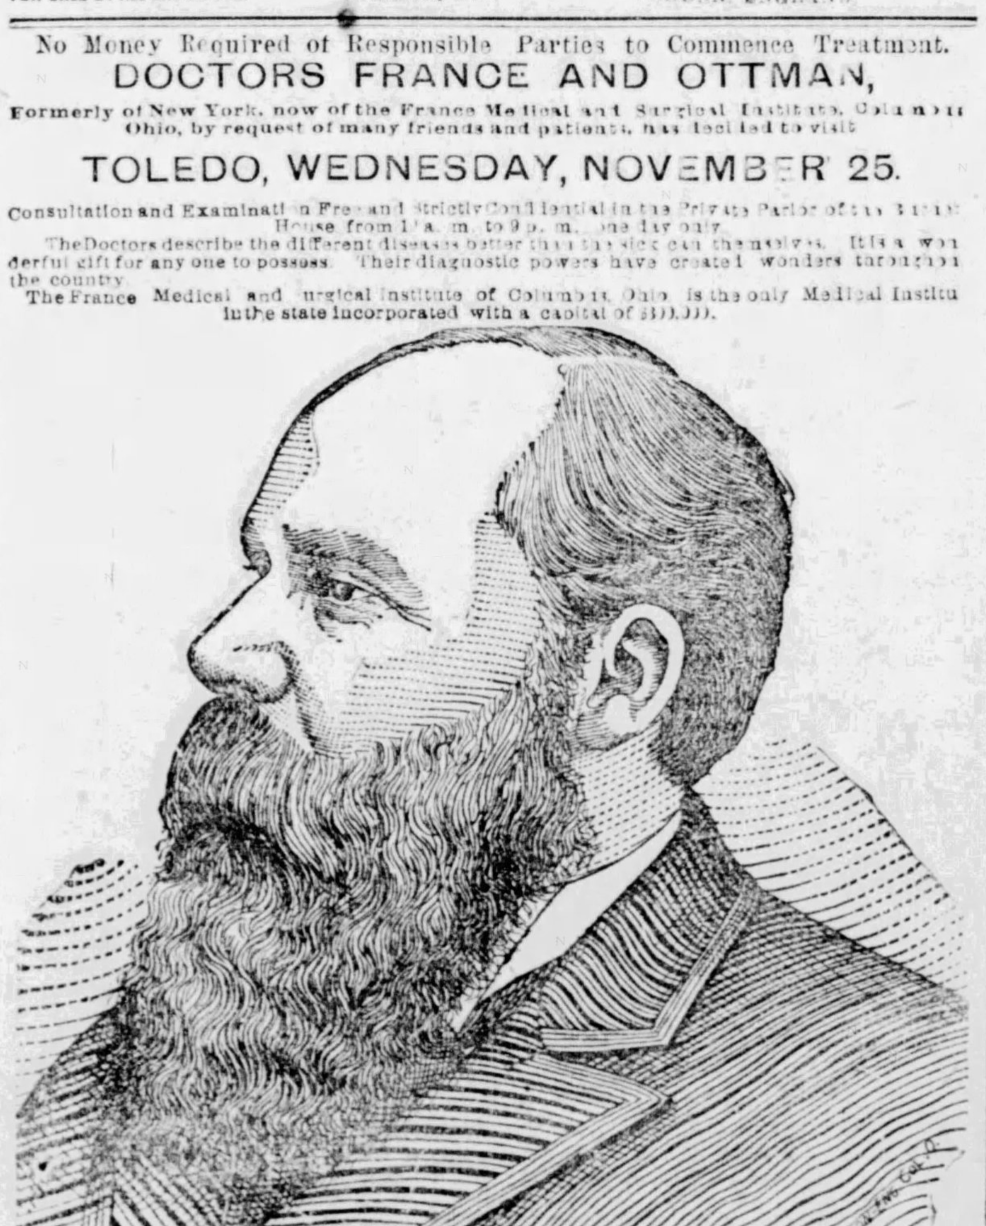
Formerly of New York, now of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, has decided to visit

TOLEDO, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 25.

Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the ... House from 1 a. m. to 9 p. m. one day only.

The Doctors describe the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess. Their diagnostic powers have created wonders throughout the country.

The France Medical and Surgical Institute of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the state incorporated with a capital of $300,000.



FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession.

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

London wheat market quiet and steady; corn irregular, French country markets steady. Liverpool wheat firm with light offerings. Fair demand for corn.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 1,103,843 bu., compared with 602,332 bu. on the same day last year.

Wheat very dull and ruled a shade lower until half an hour before the close, when it had a slight advance, closing, however, at about the opening.

Private Liverpool cable quotes futures 1d higher. The advance was caused by the Berlin rumor that the German government proposes to remit one-half of the income duties on wheat, and the cable from the minister to Russia that the ukase prohibiting the export of all cereals and cattle had been signed. Foreigners were large buyers in Chicago and New York, but Chicago receivers were free sellers.

Exports of wheat, flour included, were 542,000 bu., including 13,000 from New Orleans. Weather in the northwest warming up a little, and London reports shipments from there to-day of a half million gold.

Bradstreet's reports wheat east of the Rockies increased 1,044,000 bu. Corn decreased 1,035,000 bu., and oats increased 284,000 bu. Pacific coast wheat decreased 337,000 bu.

Cash wheat was very quiet until near the close when the advance brought out a little at 98 3-8c, closing 98c asked. December opened at 98 3-4c, sold down to 98 1-4c, then up to 99 1-2c, closing 99c asked. January sales at 1 1-2c over December. May opened at $1 05 1-8, sold down to $1 05 1-2, up to $1 06 1-2, closing $1 06 bid. No. 4 soft sales at 95c, and No 1 rejected at 90 L. S., and No 2 rejected at 80c.

Corn firm, good demand for all grades. Sales were: No. 3 at 47c and No. 4 at 44 1-2c. No. 3 for January sold at 43 1-2c, and May sales at 44 1-2c. January about 44 1-2c. Cash No. 2 about 56 1-2c.

Oats quiet. Sales of No. 3 white at 33 1-4@33 1-2c and No. 2 at 31c.

Rye quiet; no sales; 94 1-2c bid for No. 2; good demand at that price.

Clover seed active with good demand and prices for off grades 10@15c higher. Both export and home inquiry is good. Receipts 693 bags and shipments 330. Prime, sales at $4 95 and No. 2 at $4 80 @4 70. Dec. sold early at $4 90; Jan. at $4 95@5 00, with sales after 'Change at $5 05; Feb. and March close about $5 10 and $5 15.

New York closes 3-8c higher on Dec. wheat at $1 07 1-4 and 1-4c lower on Jan. corn at 54c.

Chicago closes steady on Dec. at 94 5-8c and 1 1-4c lower on Jan. corn at 42c.

Mr. Ferwall, formerly stationed at South Carolina, has been transferred to Toledo as special examiner of the Pension bureau.

Mr. D. J. O'Day and wife, of Lima, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Daly. They come to attend the Jefferson entertainment to-night.

Supper was served at Trinity church last evening from 6 until 8 o'clock, by the ladies of the Relief society. A good supper and a large attendance made the affair a success.

H. C. Campbell, formerly of the Smith Bridge company, this city, and now a prosperous capitalist of Portland, Ore., is in the city enroute east. Mr. Campbell is a director of the Union Pacific railroad and a large land speculator.

The Krieger verein, an organization of German soldiers similar to the G. A. R., have a new flag which they will dedicate this evening at Druid hall with appropriate exercises. Mr. Freidburg will deliver the address. The Krieger verein in 200 strong.

Mrs. Engleman has returned from Seattle, where she has been the guest of her daughter, Miss Ida Engleman, who is a very successful artist and has a studio at that place. This will be pleasant news to Mr. and Mrs. Engleman's many friends.

Mr. Harry E. King, of this city, addressed the Norwalk Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening, at a reception tendered under its auspices to the railroad men of the city. The Reflector says he "delivered a bright and sparkling address which was equal to the occasion and warmly received."

Last evening at the home of the bride's mother, at Perrysburg, occurred the marriage of Miss Hattie Hunt and Mr. Joe Brandhoever. Mr. Fred B. Crosby, of Toledo, was best man and Miss Emma Hudson, maid of honor. The attendants were: The Misses Louise Hudson and Hollenbeck and Messrs. James Chapen and Fred Hollenbeck. A reception was held after the ceremony, which was largely attended. After an eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. Brandhoever will go to Elkhart to reside.

Messrs. Math, Kohn and French, the committee who has charge of Harrison lodge's coming party at the Pythian Castle, have made arrangements to eclipse all former parties. It is intended to throw open the entire building for the accommodation of guests, the lodge room to be used for cards, etc., with music on the platform, for those who do not care to dance. Mr. Rhyne Opitz heads the reception committee, Mathias' orchestra will furnish the dancing tunes, and on the whole the party, as Mr. Math expresses it, is to be "out of sight."

Mrs. James McClean, of lower Huron street, gave a party yesterday, from 4 to 6:30, for her son Ruddy, who had reached his tenth anniversary. A number of the little fellow's associates were invited, and a time was enjoyed such as only can be had by youngsters. Different games were played and prizes awarded. Ice cream, cake and candy was also served. Among the guests were: Bessie Gould, Nettie Gould, Lulu Doty, Daisy Jones, Gertie St. John, Bessie McLean, Aggie Goudy, Nina Beatty, Helen Barnes, Jennie Bayer, Ollie Roshong, Edna Eaton, Bud Day, Sammy White, Bert St. John, Herbie Hood, Eddie Gill, Harry Morrison, Wilson Tanner, Willie Wilson, Zoe Roshong and George Goudy.

The R Sisters entertained the Ladies' Aid society last evening at G. A. R. hall. The ladies were uniquely dressed and represented different characters, gave recitations and sang songs and amused and interested the large audience, who were present to witness the performance. After the entertainment a penny social was enjoyed and was a success financially. The following ladies assisted in the entertainment, which was under Miss Kate Raynor's management: Anna Romeis, Jennie Richards, Jessie Crane, Anna Pennel, Linda Kobralack, Aggie Bell, Lilian Ringleman and Mr. Richards, who kindly furnished the instrumental music. Another entertainment will be given one week from next Tuesday night.

Miss Grace Williston gave a progressive pedro party last evening, which was exceedingly pretty and enjoyable. Chrysanthemums were the decorations, and the house was illuminated with candles and Japanese lanterns, which gave a charming effect. The young people played pedro until 12 o'clock, when prizes were awarded as follows: First prize, gentleman's gold scarf pin, Mr. Chas. Johnston; ladies' first prize, silver olive spoon, Miss Alice Reeves. Miss Rider and Mr. Chas. Hattersly received the booby prizes, which were a basket of candied fruit and a huge cigar. A dainty supper was served, after which dancing was indulged in until early this morning. The young people who enjoyed this pleasant party were: The Misses Allie Reeves, Carrie Ruter, Nan Sheldon, Rider, Allie Bary, Cole, Nora Mutchler, Hattie Lovett, and Miss Hicks; Messrs. Frank Crissy, Ed Meckler, Bert Jack, Walter Haskins, Clifford Haskins, Fred Chesbro, Chas. Johnston, Geo. Harsh, Chas. Hattersley, John Babbs, Geo. Jack and Paul Bateman.

INJUNCTION MODIFIED.

The City's Gas Trustees May Regulate the Supply at Grasser & Brand's.

A motion was filed in common pleas court yesterday in the case of the Grasser & Brand Brewing company against the gas trustees by the defendants to modify the injunction restraining them from shutting off the supply of gas at the plaintiff's brewery on St. Clair street. The motion was argued before Judge Pugsley, and at its conclusion was granted.

The injunction is modified so as to restrain the defendants from discontinuing the supply of gas from the brewery as it has been heretofore supplied and from the cancellation of the contract, and to enable the trustees to regulate the furnishing of gas, as they have heretofore done, but not so as to operate as a permanent discontinuance of the gas.

PLEADING FOR ALMY,

The Self-Confessed Murderer of Christie Warden.

All that Can be Hoped for by His Attorneys is that His Neck May be Saved from the Gallows.

Plymouth, N. H., Nov. 18.—The Almy trial was resumed this morning with a large crowd present. Almy looks much broken down. Mr. Storey opened for the defense and spoke of the friendship between Almy and Christie Warden, arguing that Almy had been encouraged to expect the girl to marry him. She became offended at a trifle and they separated temporarily. He returned and wished an interview but was impeded by her parents until the fatal night when he met her with her relatives and insisted on an interview. His high-strung nature led him to an unpremeditated crime.

NATIONAL GRANGE.

Col Brigham Elected Master on the First Ballot.

Springfield, O., Nov. 18.—The National Grange has elected the following officers:

Master, J. H. Brigham, Ohio; Overseer, E. W. Davis, California; Lecturer, Mortimer Whitehead, New Jersey; Steward, Ave E. Page, Missouri; Assistant Steward, O. E. Hall, Nebraska; Chaplain, Charles McDaniel, New Hampshire; Treasurer, F. M. McDowell, New York; Secretary, John Trimble, Washington, D. C.; Gate-Keeper, W. H. Nelson, Tennessee; Ceres, Mrs. Edna Brigham, Ohio; Pomona, Mrs. E. Bowen, Connecticut.

Flora, Mrs. E. P. Watson, of Mississippi; Lady Assistant Steward, Mrs. Laura C. Douglass, of Massachusetts. J. M. Woodman, of Michigan, and ——— Charters, of Virginia, were re-elected members of the executive committee.

Col. Brigham was re-elected on the first ballot.

THREE WERE DROWNED.

Port Townsend, Wash., Nov. 18.—A ship's boat belonging to the barkentine North Bend, containing five of her crew, was capsized in a gale yesterday afternoon. Two of the sailors were picked up by a passing vessel after drifting about for some time, but the other three became exhausted and were drowned. The North Bend was bound for the Fiji islands.

THE CHICKAMAUGA COMMISSION.

Columbus, Nov. 18.—The first annual report of the Ohio Commission of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park was filed with the Governor to-day. The commission has done nothing as yet except to institute the correspondence necessary to secure the desired information as to the position of Ohio organizations on the field of battle.

PRINCE GEORGE.

London, Nov. 18.—The health of Prince George of Wales, according to the Marlborough house bulletins, may be said to be improving. His sickness is following its usual course, and the prince passed a fairly good night.

THE W. C. T. U.

Boston, Nov. 18.—The last day's session of the W. C. T. U. was opened with prayer by Mrs. Grubb of Kansas and Mrs. Bottmer of New York. Mrs. Hanmore of Pennsylvania reported for the social department, which she said was one of earnest effort and not simply ornamental. Mrs. Hanmore also reported for the department of flower missions, which for many years has been carried on by Miss Jennie Cassidy, its originator, who is a helpless invalid.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The morning session of the Protestant Episcopal convention was opened by Senator Edmunds, who introduced Bishop Dudley. The bishop led in the Lord's prayer. Rev. R. F. Alsop of Brooklyn read a paper on socialism, taking an unfavorable view of that movement. A paper on the same subject was to have been read by Rev. Dr. Harrover of Staten Island, but he was ill.

AN ADDITION

To the Piqua Tin Plate Plant.

Ground Broken This Morning for the Additional Building.

As we stated in the Call of Sept. 16, the Cincinnati Corrugating Co. proposed to extend their tin plant in due time, and we are now advised that in pursuance of this determination they have ordered the following additions to their present outfit:

1 pair cold rolls from A. Garrison & Co., Pittsburg.
6 Annealing boxes from McKeesport (Pa.) Machine Co.
4 Morewood tinning pots.
1 five roll Morewood tinning machine.
1 pump for liquid tin.
Complete kits of tinman's and washman's tools.
Necessary shaftings and pulleys.
Also fire and red brick, cement, lime, castings, bolts, etc., to erect a complete tinning "stack."

The first two items are already shipped. The next three are ordered of C. A. Britton, Cleveland, and will be shipped within three or four weeks.

Mr. Britton's machines are made at Cleveland, Ohio, after Welsh machinery imported for that purpose.

An extension is necessary to contain part of the new machinery, etc., for the tin plant, as there is not room for all in their present factory buildings.

This extension was commenced this morning in charge of Mr. David Speelman, and will be completed within two weeks.

All the additions to the tin plant will be completed in four to six weeks, and the Corrugating Co. will then have increased facilities for making either bright or terne tin plates of highest grades.

The steel sheets will be rolled as heretofore, by the Piqua Rolling Mill Co., that rolled several tons of No. 30 gauge steel sheets for this purpose last week.

If the Corrugating Co. finds the operation of the plant, above referred to, as profitable as they have reason to expect, they propose to double or treble it as fast as good business policy dictates.

The course of the Corrugating Co. has been entirely consistent from the beginning, and casts shame upon those who, by their senseless partisanship have cried down the beginning of an American industry in our city because, forsooth, it was on a scale too humble to suit its would-be critics.

SENSATIONAL SUIT.

A Lumber Merchant Charged with Burning His Own Goods.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 18.—In the United States circuit court the case of the People's Fire Insurance company against D. W. Holt was placed on trial. The case involves about $120,000. There were 16 similar cases against Holt, which will probably be decided by this one. The present suit is to recover $3,500 paid to Holt on a fire insurance policy. Holt was a lumber merchant in Phillipsburg, Pa., and had a large lumber yard. Some time ago it was destroyed by fire, and Holt recovered $120,000 insurance.

He had been insured for $125,000, apportioned among a number of companies. It is now claimed by plaintiff that Holt set fire to, or caused to be set on fire, the lumber, to get the insurance; also that by fraud he made his books show that he had on hand about twice as much lumber as he actually had at the time of the fire.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

Two Men Fatally Injured at Tiffin To-Day.

Tiffin, O., Nov. 18.—(Special)—Two men were probably fatally injured here to-day. John Huth, a stove moulder, and John F. Fleck, carpenter, were standing on the B. & O. railroad Lafayette street crossing when they were struck by a train and thrown under the wheels of a passing engine which cut off Huth's right arm near the shoulder and severed Fleck's left arm and left leg.

Both men are seriously injured internally and Fleck will die.

STOPPED COUNTING LETTERS.

By a recent order doing away with the counting of mail matter, Postmaster General Wanamaker has effected no small saving in time which may be otherwise employed for the benefit of the service. The saving is estimated at about $300,000 a year. It had been the custom since the free delivery service was instituted 28 years ago, to require letter carriers to count and keep an account of all letters, postal cards, and second, third and fourth class matter collected, the total number of pieces handled, and the total postage on local matter collected.

BOOKS AND CHARACTER.

A right choice of books is usually a right choice of character. It is not those who have the greatest privileges, but those who have the most eager thirst for knowledge, who become most eminently useful. For this reason self-instruction often proves the most valuable part of education. Cobbett learned grammar by the camp fire and Rittenhouse calculated eclipses on the plow beam.

RUDYARD SHOULD EXPLAIN.

Will Rudyard Kipling rise to explain what he meant by writing in his latest story, "Ortheris being neither a menial nor an American, but a free man, had no excuse for yelping?" It is not the first time that over-rated Anglo-Indian novelist and cad had shown in his writings his hatred for America. His insolence hitherto has been condoned, but why should it be so any longer? Is there any reason for our accepting Jeems Yellowplush as a favored guest?—Scranton (Pa.) Truth.

KILLED THE POSTMASTER.

Occupants of a House of Ill-Repute Placed in Jail.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 18.—Martha Scott and four companions are in jail charged with the murder of Postmaster Church, of Mount Airy, who was killed by a stray bullet which was fiered from a house of ill-repute in which the inmates were quarreling.

A great deal of indignation was caused by Mr. Church's death and a vigilance committee was formed to lynch the party last night.

They did not succeed, however, as the jail was too well guarded and the prisoners could not be reached.

THE SAUSAGE MUSS.

Mr. Kurtz Makes a Statement About the Quitting of His Men

To the Editor: The truth is asked regarding the strike I wish to answer to the public, the truth and nothing but the truth is that there is nothing to the strike story.

It is merely that the boys would not get up in the morning for breakfast, when the girl rung the bell, so I went to their room at 6:40 and uncovered them and got them to get out of bed; whereupon they intended to take revenge on me by leaving my employ.

They were all paid off and their places filled immediately by more competent men, and the change is profitable to my sausage trade.

There was not one word said about more wages or shorter hours, and they appeared well satisfied until Mike Utter, who changes places every little while, talked the others into this little rush.

FINANCES GROWING LOWER.

Even a New Form Does Not Change the Situation.

Only Five Million Dollars in the National Treasury To-Day—Receipts for the Month Are Light.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The declared treasury balance to-day is the lowest it has been since the new form of stating it was adopted, it being $34,343,306.92.

Of this amount $344,436 is in minor coin, $14,761,248 in subsidiary coin, and 14,270,710 in national bank depositaries. Under the old form of statement the net balance would be less than $5,000,000. The receipts this month so far have been light, being $11,000,000, while the expenditures have reached $17,000,000.

Of the expenditures $9,000,000, or more than one-half have been on account of pensions.

WALKED IN HIS SLEEP.

Lima, O., Nov. 18.—Mike Fitzgerald, a boiler maker, took a somnambulistic walk out of the second story window at his boarding house and was fatally injured. His cries awakened the inmates of the house, who hastened to his assistance, carried him into the house and summoned medical aid. Fitzgerald's arm and leg are broken. He is also injured internally.

OVERDUE STEAMER.

Southampton, Nov. 18.—The North German Lloyd steamer Elder from New York, Nov. 7, has not arrived, but her owners express confidence in her safety and think she is disabled and may be in tow of the Elbe.

THEY TAPPED THE WIRE.

New York, Nov. 18.—Harry Summerfield and Edward Fitzgerald, who tapped the wires leading into a pool room in Cedar street, were to-day held for examination. The proprietor alleged they got $3,600 out of him.

Several of the delegates to the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor will remain in the city for a few days to take in the sights, as they have thus far been deprived of the pleasure.

The case of Ellen Hayes against the Toledo Electric Street Railway company, on trial in Judge Lemmon's court, was submitted to the jury last evening, but no verdict has been arrived at this afternoon.

The case of L. F. Towers against the city was decided in Judge Pugsley's court to-day. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, allowing $25. It was an action to recover $350 damages to the plaintiff's buggy on Front street, East Toledo, by reason of the defective street.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

AFTER JANUARY, 1892.
I shall have the finest men's shoe department in the state. Until then my entire stock must go at cost to make room. If you want bargains in boots, shoes or rubbers call at the reliable shoe house of GEO. F. TANNER, 607 Summit street.

ATTEND TANNER'S GREAT ALTERATION SALE.
My store being altogether too small for the amount of business, I am forced to add another floor to be able to wait on my trade. Therefore I will sell my entire stock of boots and shoes at a great sacrifice from now until Jan. 1, 1892, when carpenters and painters shall take possession. This is no humbug sale, but a grand alteration sale. All goods must move. Come early and secure bargains in winter footwear, at TANNER'S, 607 Summit st.
P. S.—No goods charged during this sale.

MRS. GRAHAM'S
Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream
Is not a cosmetic in the sense in which that term is popularly used, but permanently beautifies. It creates a soft, smooth, clear, velvety skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind and prevents sunburn and freckles, and blackheads will never come while you use it. It cleanses the face far better than soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissues and thus prevents the formation of wrinkles. It gives the freshness, clearness and smoothness of skin that you had when a little girl. Every lady, young or old, ought to use it, as it gives a more youthful appearance to any lady and that permanently. It contains no acid, powder or alkali, and is as harmless as dew and as nourishing to the skin as dew is to the flower. Price $1.00. Ask your druggist for it.
SAMPLE BOTTLE mailed free to any lady on receipt of 10 cents in stamps to pay for postage and packing. Lady Agents wanted.

COSTIVENESS
If not relieved by judicious and timely treatment, is liable to result in chronic constipation. As an aperient that may be used with perfect safety and satisfaction, Ayer's Pills are unsurpassed. Unlike most cathartics, these pills, while they relax and cleanse, exert a tonic influence on the stomach, liver, and bowels, causing these organs to perform their functions with healthy regularity and comfort. Being purely vegetable and free from mineral drug of any kind, their use is not attended with injurious effects. Good for old and young of every climate, Ayer's Pills are everywhere the favorite. G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main street, Carlisle, Pa., says: "Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and I deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. I would not willingly be without them."
Cured by
Ayer's Cathartic Pills
Every Dose Effective.

In the matter of curatives what you want is something that will do its work while you continue to do yours—a remedy that will give you no inconvenience nor interfere with your business. Such a remedy is Allcock's Porous Plasters. These plasters are not an experiment; they have been in use for over thirty years, and their value has been attested by the highest medical authorities, as well as by testimonials from those who have used them. They require no change of diet, and are not affected by wet or cold. Their action does not interfere with labor or business; you can toil and yet be cured while hard at work. They are so pure that the youngest, the oldest, the most delicate person of either sex can use them with great benefit.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

STRIKE ON A FARM.

The Hands Will Not Feed the Stock or Let Any One Else Feed the Same.

An injunction was issued in common pleas court to-day restraining Albert Caldwell and Lewis Caldwell from interfering with Henry P. Glann in the operation of a farm in Washington township. It seems from the petition that Henry Glann owns the farm and contracted with Albert Caldwell and Lewis Caldwell to work the farm, feed the stock and sell milk on shares. He alleges that the defendants refuse to feed the stock themselves or permit any one else to do so, and that the stock is starving in consequence.

THE ISABELLA SOCIETY

Spends a Profitable Afternoon—Paper by Mrs. H. M. Bacon.

The Isabella society met with Mrs. Susan I. Moore, of Maplewood avenue, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Rosa L. Segur presiding.

Miss Nolan acted as secretary in Mrs. A. P. Steven's absence, and read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved.

Mrs. Segur read a letter from Mrs. Dickinson, in answer to one she had written, in regard to the report being circulated that the woman's pavilion would not be erected. Mrs. Dickinson says that the report is untrue and that she has faith to believe that the pavilion will be built either on the fair grounds or outside.

Mrs. Dr. Bacon read the paper of the afternoon, entitled, "The political and financial condition of Spain during the Isabellan era." The paper was interesting and well read, followed by a lively discussion, in which the following ladies participated: Mrs. Rosa L. Segur, Mrs. Foley, Mrs. Dutton, Mrs. R. G. Bacon, Mrs. Dr. Bacon, Mrs. Lorenz, Miss Bouton and Mrs. Claudia Q. Murphy.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Geo. Lorenz the third Tuesday in December, at 1907 Madison street. The paper will be given by Mrs. Bentley, subject, "Expression." The January paper will be given by Miss Nolan, subject, "Customs, manners and dress of the upper and lower classes of Spain."

DRAPERY DEPARTMENT — We make a specialty in fine lace curtains and portierres. There is a great science in making artistic curtains, so they will not get out of shape in a little while. This department is in charge of an expert of long experience. STOLBERG & PARKS.
